Certificates will be presented to those chosen by the state committee.

The local firemen voted to submit the name of Mayor Weaver noting that he has been a fireman for more than 40 years and has served as fire chief, as president of the fire department several times, and "has given a lifetime of outstanding service to both the fire department and the community."

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS ADDRESS BY MRS. RICE

Mrs. John S. Rice, who recently returned from a four-month trip around the world after a three-year service as the wife of the U.S. ambassador to The Netherlands, addressed a meeting of the Woman's Club at the YWCA Wednesday afternoon. She was presented a cymbidium orchid by the club. She said an ambassador, as the president's direct representative in that country, is subject to much criticism but that they found the Dutch people kind and cordial. "The Netherlands has 12 million people, as many as in the state of Pennsylvania, but is only one-third as large as our state," she explained that she had much entertaining to do as the ambassador's wife and her staff of five live-in servants was not adequate and many times the servants brought in were not satisfactory.

She discussed a picnic at which she was hostess and at which Prince Bernadotte was a guest. She said he was a charming person. She discussed the romance and wedding of Princess Irene and the excitement it caused both sides of this long-publicized event.

She explained several national

EASTER SEAL SALE RECEIPTS SET NEW MARK

Directors of the Adams County Society for Crippled Children and Adults at their May meeting here Wednesday afternoon learned the Easter Seal sale this year was the most successful in the society's history, topping the 1964 drive by nearly $1,000.

During the session the directors put some of the Easter Seal money to work immediately. They voted to send six crippled county youngsters to summer camps operated by the state Society for Crippled Children and Adults, ordered a $68 leg brace for a crippled girl and voted to pay a third of the cost of an artificial arm for a county girl. Other motions paid for special shoes, repaired a wheelchair, provided transportation to a clinic for a crippled child and paid two months rental to the Warner Hospital for the therapy center at the hospital which the society uses two half days a week.

$4,679 FROM SEALS

Six of the youngsters who will be sent to camp are between the ages of 8 and 13 years and one is 14. Mrs. Clara Bushey, state nurse, told the board. Planned surgery for one of the respective campers may be delayed so that she can complete her camping period, the nurse said.

Johnson Declares China Wants War In S. Viet Nam So She Can Dominate Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the aim of Communist China "is to erode and discredit America's ability to help to prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia." Johnson said "in this they shall never succeed."

Johnson threw down the gauntlet to the Red Chinese in a television-radio address on American efforts in Viet Nam. The President prepared his talk for a meeting with editorial cartoonists in the East Room of the White House.

Repeating his offer to engage in unconditional discussions designed to end the Viet Nam war, Johnson said this would "clearly be in the interest of North Viet Nam."

CHINA WANTS WAR

FIRE COMPANY BUYING NEW AMBULANCE

Gettysburg Fire Department Wednesday night voted to purchase a new Cadillac-Superior ambulance to replace the 10-year-old "red" ambulance of the organization.

Cost of the new ambulance will be $10,750. Ambulance Corps Chairman Glenn Weishaar told the department at its meeting in the engine house. He added that the ambulance corps has $10,865.24 in its "new ambulance fund."

The "new ambulance fund" was begun five years ago. Since then the company has donated $1,000 each year from the proceeds of the carnival to the fund. In addition, a number of local organizations have given sums toward the new ambulance and "profits" above the actual cost of operation realized from donations made by persons using ambulance service have gone into the fund.

NEW IMPROVEMENTS

The ambulance to be traded in for the new vehicle was one used by the Warner Hospital here before the firemen began ambulance service. When the fire department adopted that service the hospital donated the ambulance to the fire company.

Weishaar said the new and full-purchased through Wolfington Body Co., Philadelphia, will have numerous improvements which experience has shown desirable. Among them will be "more head room" for the ambulance attendants. The distance from floor to ceiling is 52 inches.

The vehicle will provide racks to hold the new orthopedic stretcher purchased by the ambulance corps recently. The wheeled stretcher will have devices permitting "contour" changes. More "closet" and storage space will be provided and its oxygen units will be more accessible. The portable resuscitator which had been "borrowed" from the Rescue truck to have oxygen available in the "red" ambulance, will be returned to the rescue truck upon the arrival of the new vehicle which will have resuscitation and oxygen equipment "built in." Also "built in" will be racks to hold plasma and a generator and a socket to permit operation of the "artificial lung" if needed while transporting a patient.

URGE MERGER FOR MT. JOY TO CUT TAXES

Letters urging residents of the Mt. Joy Twp. School District to vote Tuesday for the proposed merger with the Gettysburg Area Merged District were mailed today to 400 taxpayers by the Mt. Joy Twp. School Board. The referendum will accompany the ballots taxpayers will receive at the polls for the May primary election.

The directors advise the "approval of the merger will mean substantial tax reductions for the 400 taxpayers in our district."

According to the letter, signed by the five board members, "Only the northern section of Mt. Joy Twp. will vote on this issue. The southern section—the Mt. Joy Independent School District—is not affected by the proposed merger because it is a member of the Littlestown district." The township was divided last year by court order as a preliminary to state mandated reorganization.

At the time of the division, a separate tax schedule was established for the Mt. Joy Twp. School District to provide revenue for the district's share of school expenses in the Gettysburg Joint System. The 1964 rate was 55 mills on real estate and 25 percent on occupation, one of the highest in the county.

Under the merger, according to the letter, the tax structure would be identical with that of other districts in the merger, which last year was 45 mills on real estate and 10 percent on occupation. The letter states further: "If we do not merge this year, we will be forced to borrow money to pay our share of school expenses or raise our taxes beyond what we paid last year. We feel that our taxpayers already are overburdened. We refuse to raise taxes further if it can be avoided. We can solve the problem only by merging with the Gettysburg Area Merged District July 1, this year."

The letter is signed by Rex Maddox, president; Donald E. Doersom, vice-president; Stanley R. Wolf, treasurer; John D. Clapsaddle, member, and Michaela S. Pyle, secretary.

WILSON FACES CARLISLE JURY

The Cumberland County criminal court hearing of Lester O. Wilson, Biglerville, on three charges of cheating by fraudulent pretenses entered its second day Wednesday in Carlisle.

Frank P. Stephenson, Shiremanstown, one of the three prosecutors against Wilson, testified that he gave Wilson a check for $2,500 on Sept. 16, 1963, for stock in a corporation known as Putercraft Corporation, York, which supposedly manufactured beer steins.

Stephenson testified that Carl Burtner was with Wilson at the time he agreed to purchase Burtner's stock in the company, set at 50 percent. Stephenson said he agreed to purchase 500 shares at $10 per share and paid $2,500, and gave Burtner a note for the other $2,500.

Charles E. Stansfield, 299 East Green Street, Shiremanstown, one of the three prosecutors in the Wilson case, testified he purchased stock in the company totaling $1,700, even though he admitted in testimony he never checked whether Putercraft Co., Inc., had an office. Stansfield admitted Wilson said the assets of the company were nil, at the time, but that the company had expended $14,000 in research for production of steins.

John W. Hobart, Creek Road, Mechanicsburg, the third prosecutor in the case, testified Wilson had 330 shares of stock of the company when he was approached and quoted Wilson as saying he wanted $550 as a loan, offering Hobart the stock in the company as security for the loan. Hobart said he received a certificate from Wilson for 330 shares of stock in the company.

On display at the Adams County Public Library is a photographic exhibit by Prof. Charles A. Sloat of the chemistry department at Gettysburg College.

The seven pieces exhibit a variety of esthetic principles. One is a view of "Monticello," Jefferson's Virginia home, which might almost be called a portrait. Other photographs are studies in design and texture. A pottery Madonna figure with a floral arrangement reflected on a glass table shows strong black and white contrast. The still life arrangement of grapes in a bowl gives comparisons in line and texture. Humor comes out in a picture of sprouter potatoes lying on crumpled earth in poses resembling human figures. The interest here is mainly textural. Strong form appears in the picture with a moral theme showing whiskey bottles and cigarettes framed by two black cigarette marks in the background. Another bit of whimsy is contained in a story-telling arrangement called "Cailliete," meaning flirt or gossip. It is a rural scene with doll figures, a donkey and a windmill.

S. C. SETTLE IS FBI AGENT

Stanley C. Settle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Settle, Biglerville, and a 1935 graduate of Gettysburg High School was quoted by the Asheville, N. C., newspaper recently as saying: "The fact that crime does not pay can be credited largely to an interested public." Settle has been an FBI agent since his return from army duty in 1945.

The newspaper article related Settle's speech to the Asheville Lions Club. Settle has resided at Asheville for a number of years.

According to the article, Settle told the Lions: "Most crimes can be solved with the help of local citizenry." Settle cited a number of cases in which information gained from the public assisted the FBI in bringing their investigation to a close.

CITES EXAMPLES

"One was the Harry Henry Sinter case, involving the theft of $125,000 in jewels from a New York diamond merchant. Sinter was arrested in Hendersonville, N. C., part of Settle's area as FBI agent, and the FBI's investigation reached out to persons in a wide area in western North Carolina to complete their case against the man known here as Bob Waterman.

"Another case cited by Settle was the car theft ring in Polk County broken up recently.

"In 1964," Settle said, "the FBI had 13,000 convictions." Of the number, he said, 96 percent were gained when the defendants pleaded guilty in the face of the evidence against them. In the field of Civil Rights, the bureau during the same year had only five convictions out of 3,000 cases," Settle said.

who was present when the money was divided, according to Farrell's testimony, was charged today with being an accessory. She was released on her own recognizance. She has been associated with a Protestant missionary office in El Monte, Mexico.

J. P. Strom, chief of the South Carolina State Law Enforcement Division, quoted Mrs. Kuper as saying she kept the six or seven bags of money a short while after the theft. He quoted her as saying she received $5,000 and a kiss on the cheek from Mrs. Hollingsworth.

CHALLENGES CHARGE

Philip Madina, who was Farrell's lawyer and now is representing Mary Jane Farrell, challenged the charges of a theft at the closely guarded textile machinery plant.

Madina cited a partnership suit Mrs. Hollingsworth filed against her husband after their separation and noted the theft of the money was not reported until this past January, months after the alleged burglary.

Thomas said the partnership suit was terminated but admitted Hollingsworth did not report the theft of $400,000 until January. A camera, papers and other valuables were the only items reported stolen after the April burglary.

The Latimore Twp. supervisors have announced that they have recently adopted an ordinance prohibiting and regulating accumulations of garbage, rubbish and junked automobiles on private or public property. The ordinance defines nuisances and fixes penalties for violations.

Each violation of the ordinance may be punished by a fine not to exceed $300 or in default of payment up to 30 days in jail.

A companion ordinance provides for the licensing of junkyards and auto graveyards and sets an annual fee at $200 for dealers operating junkyards. A 10-acre limit is placed upon the junkyards and must not be within 50 feet of a public highway. Junked autos are to be stored in rows with not less than 15 feet between rows.

A fine of $25 is provided for violations of the ordinance with each day in violation considered a separate offense. Up to 30 days in jail may be ordered in lieu of payment of the fine.

The licensing ordinance becomes effective in five days but junkyards currently in operation will not be required to secure a license before July and will be charged only $100 for the second half of this year.

Johnson

"We know, as our adversaries should also know, there is no purely military solution in sight for either side," he said. "We are ready for unconditional discussions."

HUMAN NEED

Johnson said "the third face of war in Viet Nam, is, at once, the most tragic and the most hopeful." He said it represents human need and the effort to develop the Vietnamese economy.

"People must fight for something," he said. "The people of South Viet Nam must know that after the long, brutal journey through the dark tunnel of conflict there breaks the light of a happier life. Only if this is so can they be expected to sustain the enduring will for continued strife."

Emphasizing that phase of his thinking, Johnson devoted the bulk of his address to members of the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists to present projects and future proposals for helping South Viet Nam develop its economy and care for its people.

The President again suggested that the United States will extend its aid programs into Communist North Viet Nam once peace is achieved.

Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, chaplain at Gettysburg college, will head the newly-instituted Department of Music to be opened at the college in 1946, it was announced Wednesday evening by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president.

The announcement was made at a banquet given by the college at Christ Lutheran church for the college's capella choir of which Professor Wagnild is director. The new music department will be started with a $50,000 fund which the college Woman's League has pledged itself to raise for the project.

Dr. Walter S. Coleman, director of the Gettysburg National Military park, received a telegram Thursday from his sister, Sister Mary Colman, who has returned to the states after having been freed from a Japanese internment camp in the Philippines.

Sister Colman was serving in a hospital when the Japs captured it in the Philippines in 1942 and had been interned from that time until American troops liberated Manila. The telegram said she was "feeling fine."

Today's Talk

KINDLINESS

Kindness is one of those old-fashioned virtues, but it has so much to do with the joy and hope of so many of us that we welcome it, wherever it turns up, as something rare in our lives. It's something like rare perfume, influencing far beyond its immediate distributing station.

We feel a spiritual warmth in the presence of a kindly person. Burdens slip from our shoulders when we come in contact with such a one. We feel ashamed of our fears and our petty worries that rob us so much. We hold our head a little higher, and with greater self-respect and confidence. Meeting a kindly person is like the cool, sunny day after a shower.

All genuinely great people are of a kindly nature. All you have to do to learn this is to read the published lives of world figures. A dazzling reputation may precede a person, but when that person is met, it is a pleasant surprise to find him or her just like other people, kindly and affable. There may be exceptions, but they are only exceptions.

Eliot Hubbard (1856-1915) wrote a line that I carried with me for years. He said: "Do the best that you can, and be kind." Simple enough, and if everyone followed that out this would be a far happier world in which to live.

The familiar story of the Good Samaritan in the Bible is an example of kindness, united to that of sympathy and understanding. The world must have brightened up considerably as that good man approached the unfortunate one, lifted him to his own beast and took him to a place where he could be cared for. Life and the entire world look good to us when we note a kindly act before our eyes. It looks much better to all concerned, however, when we are a part of that kindness.

Kindness is a great healer, too. I have seen a dog punished that later reacted to kindness, as though all were forgiven. Kindness can enter into our everyday lives in a marked degree, making them richer and happier. It is beyond all intrinsic value.

Numerous Agencies Take Credit In Steady Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Right about now the American economy is chalking up a record for peacetime expansion. And there are quite a few people busy taking bows: government economists and planners, money managers, businessmen, consumers.

It's in the middle of the month that the government takes many important business soundings — industrial production, employment and unemployment, length of the working week, average factory take-home pay, personal incomes, and the like.

Government officials like to point to a new climate, an improved relationship between government and business. Washington has warned against unjustified price increases and also against over-generous wage increases. Washington has given many businessmen the conviction that it doesn't regard the making of profits as a sin. Government seems to agree with businessmen that profits are a good thing for the economy when they mean expansion and the absorption of higher production costs without inflationary price increases.

And the fiscal planners are taking a deep bow right now. They point to federal tax cuts despite Treasury deficits as spurring consumer spending and business expansion to the good of everyone.

The money managers also claim a victory in keeping short-term interest rates high enough to discourage the flight of dollars to foreign shores, while maintaining low enough long-term rates to keep the economy moving forward.

Continued Growth
And all signs point to May making the grade as the 51st month of growth without major interruption. This tops the old peacetime mark of 50 months set in the 1930s when the economy was recovering from the depth of the Great Depression.

In this middle of May, available signs from weekly reports of key industries and retail trade indicate that the economy as a whole is still on the upgrade. How fast the pace will be determined when the statistics are published a month hence.

The question right now is: What has made this record expansion possible and kept it from lagging?

Business takes a bow on the grounds that by and large it has avoided the excesses that have spelled trouble in past cyclical upswings.

It has expanded its plants and invested in new equipment, but with caution that so far has built up little, if any, excess productive capacity.

Corporation are building up inventories, but this time the increase in stocks is pretty well

Just Folks
FINANCIAL LANGUAGE
Never had the slightest sense about income and expense. Couldn't seem to understand phrases such as "cash in hand," "Bills receivable," and those figures which the banks disclose with this statement coldly made: "Surplus after taxes paid."

Know disbursements and receipts. Show upon the balance sheets. Black is gain and loss is red. But, when some financial head points the inner meanings out. Don't know what they're all about. This I'll say to all concerned: "Banker's language never learned."

This, of course, I understand: Nice to have is "cash in hand" When approaching candy shops Someone begs for lollipops. Nice to have is "cash in hand" For what loved ones may demand.

But that leaves me, I'm afraid, Nothing, "after taxes paid."

GENIE CHANCE HONORED FOR 'QUAKE WORK

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Genie Chance, wife of an Anchorage, Alaska, automobile dealer and mother of three children, had the kind of free-wheeling job every broadcast journalist dreams about.

As a regular reporter for an Anchorage radio station 14 months ago, her beat covered an area of about 18,000 square miles. She chased police cars and fire engines in Anchorage, but sometimes found herself with camera and tape recorder, aboard a crab boat en route to a remote Eskimo village; in a helicopter covering troops training for arctic warfare; in a plane with smoke jumpers fighting a 10,000-acre tundra fire.

IRONIC SETTING

Under such circumstances, it was ironic that Genie Chance's biggest story broke when she was riding quietly down an Anchorage street in her automobile. It was on March 27, 1964, and all of a sudden her car began to bounce.

"I thought at first it was a flat tire," she recalls. "Then I saw people running out of buildings and looking up — and buildings literally began to wave."

It was the great Alaskan earthquake. Mrs. Chance drove immediately — automatically — to the city's public safety building (which was anything but safe after the quake) and using the broadcasting equipment in her automobile remained on duty continuously for 59 hours. She sent out news to a city and countryside whose telephone communications were cut by disaster, organized ham radio operators, gathered rescue information, reunited separated families and helped set up public shelters and rescue teams.

TOP AWARD

In recognition of her level-headed marathon, Texas-born Mrs. Chance recently was given the top "Golden Mike" award of a national women's magazine (McCall's).

"Some of the things I saw are memories you want to push out of your mind," she says. "But others you want to remember."

ball, served as lookout, and that Vecchioli disposed of some of the furs.

Vecchioli and his wife were arrested April 20 in Mesa, Ariz., after Mrs. Vecchioli jumped bail and left the city.

Vecchioli was held by Magistrate William Cibotti on charges of burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods and conspiracy. His lawyer later filed a habeas corpus petition with the Common Pleas Court to have Vecchioli released on bail, saying the state had failed to make out a case except for the receiving charge. A hearing on the petition for a writ was set for May 21.

Bricker testified at Tuesday's hearing that Vecchioli and his wife, Libby, 27, were with him the night he picked the lock on the fur shop. He said Mrs. Vecchioli, who was held on $35,000

Elston Howard Is Out Of Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Elston Howard, the New York Yankees All-Star catcher, was in a chipper mood today following his release from the hospital after surgery for the removal of bone chips from his right elbow.

It had been expected that Howard, who originally hurt the arm during an exhibition game in Puerto Rico and then re-injured it in the opening game of the season in Minnesota, would be out until June 15.

"I might surprise a few people," Howard said from his Teaneck, N.J., home. "I feel so good now, I think I'll be able to come back before the time predicted."

HUNT MAY BE OUT FOR YEAR
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets expect little, if any, help from Ron Hunt, their hard-luck All-Star second baseman, for the remainder of the National League baseball season.

While Hunt convalesced today following a successful 1½-hour operation on his dislocated left shoulder, the club waited for Chuck Hiller, acquired from San Francisco Wednesday as a second base replacement, to arrive in New York.

Mets physician Dr. Peter LaMotte, who operated on Hunt Wednesday, said the 24-year-old infielder would be sidelined for at least three months and possibly for the rest of the season.

Hunt, chosen the Mets' most valuable player in 1963 and 1964, led the team in hitting last year with a .303 average.

"I might surprise a few people," Howard said from his Teaneck, N.J., home. "I feel so good now, I think I'll be able to come back before the time predicted."

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wednesday night was extra-ordinary night and big bat night in the Class AA Eastern League as two games ran overtime and the other featured 23 runs.

For the second consecutive night, Pittsfield pounded Williamsport, 14-9. On Tuesday the Red Sox defeated Williamsport 17-1.

Reading snapped Elmira's six-game winning streak with a 10th inning 7-6 decision, and York dumped Springfield, also 7-6, in 11 innings.

Pittsfield's victory boosted its lead to 1½ games over Elmira. Catcher Owen Johnson led the Pittsfield 15-hit attack, driving in five runs with two home runs and a double. Jim Russin also homered and had a double for Pittsfield, and relief pitcher John Hawkins tripled, while Felix Maldonado and Pete Jernigan doubled.

Shaun Fitzmaurice homered for Williamsport in the ninth. Fred Krase's 10th inning double scored pinch-runner Hector Cardenas for Reading's victory.

Brennan Asplen two-out single in the last of the 11th drove home Jim French for the White Roses' decision over Springfield.

French had reached first when leftfielder Bob Taylor lost his fly in the lights. French then advanced to second when a previous runner got picked off.

York led at one time 6-0, but the Giants rallied with two runs in the sixth, eighth and ninth.

INJURED BOXER EXPIRES AFTER BRAIN SURGERY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Detroit heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks died today from a head injury. He was knocked out Monday night in the ninth round of a fight with Leotis Martin of Philadelphia.

Banks, 24, regained consciousness after the fight, but then lapsed into unconsciousness again and was rushed to Presbyterian Hospital.

Brain surgery was performed Tuesday morning to remove a blood clot and the 207-pound fighter had been in a coma ever since.

Banks' younger brother, Jimmy, had come to Philadelphia from Detroit. Two other brothers and his parents, who live in Tupelo, Miss., survive.

SUSPECT CAR CRASH

Dr. Robert S. Andre, a Philadelphia neurosurgeon who performed the operation, ruled out the finishing punch as a direct cause of the subdural hematoma, or clot, in Banks' brain. He said the injury looked as though the boxer had been in an auto crash.

Banks had no record of previous head injury through boxing, although he had suffered four knockouts in 27 fights. He had won 16 of his fights with knockouts and six others with decisions.

Banks worked at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Detroit.

Pennsylvania State Athletic Commissioner Frank Wildman said earlier no investigation of the fight was planned.

IN GOOD CONDITION

"Both Banks and Martin were in excellent condition; the bout was conducted in the proper manner; the referee was alert; nothing occurred before the knockout to suggest any lack of care or supervision," said Wildman.

Martin could not immediately be reached for comment.

BULLETS SEND FINE GROUP TO MAC MEET

When the annual Middle Atlantic Conference track and field championships open Friday afternoon at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Gettysburg College will be represented by one of its most talented squads in history.

Leading the Bullet contingent will be four Sophomores, Don Ardinger, Williamsport, Md.; Scott Shoupe, Merrick, N. Y.; Bruce Wilson, Ridley Park; Joe Egrestiz, Harrisburg. All but Wilson have established new Gettysburg school records during the regular season.

Ardinger holds the Gettysburg record for the 100-yard dash, clipping through in 9.7 seconds. He will go against Temple's Frank Roselone in what could be the top attraction of the two-day meet. Roselone was a triple winner a year ago, copping the 100, 220 and 440 besides running a leg on the fourth-place mile relay team. Ardinger and Roselone clashed in the first meet of the season and the Gettysburg Bullet handed the Owl his first setback in the 100 in collegiate dual meet competition. The two locked horns again in the 220 with Roselone coming out on top by one-tenth of a second. All but two of Ardinger's races in the 100 have been clocked under 10 seconds. His best performance in the 220 has been a 21.5 seconds on a straight away and a 21.6 on the curve, the same time Roselone ran it in the MAC's last season.

SHOUPE VERSATILE
Shoupe has become a versatile performer in Gettysburg's campaign. The 6'3", 175-pound former Calhoun athlete has taken in both the low and intermediate hurdles, high jump, broad jump and pole vault. He holds the school mark for the pole vault, leaping 13'3". He has turned in a 15.3-second 120-yard low hurdle and a 42.8 second 330-intermediate hurdle. He will bypass the broad jump in the MAC's, but will compete in the high jump. His best performance in that event has been six feet.

Wilson will head Gettysburg's broad jumpers and will also take part in the 440 and mile relay. His best jump this season has been 22'6" and his fastest 440 has been 50.1 seconds. Egrestiz is primarily a javelin man, but has pole vaulted 11 feet. He holds the Gettysburg record for the javelin with a toss of 208'2".

OTHER ENTRIES
Three other Bullet athletes, who placed last year, will be returning for another crack at the honors. Dale Boyd, Pennsville, N. J., will be back in the 100 and 220 where he placed third and fourth, respectively, a year ago. Dick Dreas, who finished second in the high jump, will also be returning as well as javelin thrower Dick Buss. Buss took a fourth in 1964.

Gettysburg finished fifth in last year's meet at LaSalle. With some remaining help from discus man Jack Costner, Deptford, N. J.; Bill Cannell, 100 and 220 dasher from Woodstown, N. J.; Bob Ehrhart, Parkersburg, W. Va.; and Jerry Staub, Jacksonville Beach, Fla., in the 800, and Chris Hayden, South Salem, N. Y., 440 and 880, the Bullets could very well improve upon that position.

PHILLY RALLY IN 9TH FALLS SHORT BY RUN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cincinnati relief pitcher Jim O'Toole saved a Reds' 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday night, but he left the mound at the end of the ninth inning thinking the score was tied.

"I walked off the field thinking the game was still on," said O'Toole later. "They're congratulating me. I said 'for what?' They said, 'we won.' I said 'we did?'"

"How can you be a reliever and not know the score," pitcher Roger Craig asked O'Toole. "Yeah, next time you pitch, take a look at the scoreboard," said Pete Rose, the second baseman.

HAD TYING RUNS ON
The Phillies were losing 4-2 when the ninth inning started. They scored one run and had the tying and winning runs on second and third with none out before O'Toole got the side out.

O'Toole struck out two and then got Richie Allen to ground out for the final out.

Pinch hitter Gus Triandos led off the last of the ninth with a single off Leo Cardenas glove. Dick Stuart sent a bloop to left center for a hit.

Manager Gene Mauch then put in John Herrnstein to run for Triandos and Bo Belinsky to run for Stuart. Tony Taylor lined a double down the left field line to score Herrnstein.

ALLEN HAD HOMER
Johnny Briggs struck out and Cookie Rojas was intentionally walked to load the bases. Then O'Toole struck out Tony Gonzales and Allen grounded out, ending the inning.

O'Toole said later he believed Taylor's double had tied the game, instead of making it 4-3. Sammy Ellis, who pitched the first 7 2/3 innings for the Reds, picked up his fifth victory without a defeat. Ray Culp, who replaced starter Ray Herbert, absorbed his second defeat against one victory.

Allen had a home run for the Phillies.

McSherrystown Little League
The Nailers scored three times in the top of the third inning and went on to defeat the Moose 5-2 Wednesday evening in the season opener for both squads.

Andy Folmer got the winners going with a long home run. Billy Marshall contributed to the winning cause with a solid triple. Tony Conrad went all the way for the victory as he allowed three hits and fanned six.

Tony Murren was the big gun for the Moose as he belted two of the loser's three safeties. He and Sherdel took care of the Moose pitching duties.

PROPOSES NEW STATE BOARD ON PLANNING AND POLICIES

State Board of Education Bjt HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Earl J. McGrath, a former U.S. commissioner of education, has posed a "tender" problem for the two-year-old State Board of Education.

In a special report to the board, McGrath recommended that a new and separate state board be created to handle the policy and planning of public higher education in Pennsylvania.

McGrath's report was received by the board Wednesday without comment. The Council of Higher Education scheduled a meeting for May 24 to discuss its contents.

NO SUICIDE TENDENCY

However, Charles G. Simpson, council chairman, offered the first reaction to the recommendation.

"There is no observable tendency for the (state) board to commit suicide or fratricide," he said.

McGrath was commissioned by the council to conduct a study of the state college system in Pennsylvania and come up with recommendations on how to improve it.

EXCESSIVE CONTROLS

The report was particularly critical of the "excessive bureaucratic controls" placed on the college by the state and the part politics played in the "policies and practices of these institutions."

In this respect, Simpson hailed the report for citing "many of the troubles" which have bothered the state colleges for years.

But he called the recommendation for a new higher education board the "tenderest subject" among the proposals.

McGrath said the state took a "giant step forward" in education when the state board was created in 1963 with its subordinate councils of basic and of higher education.

TOO MUCH WORK

But he added:

"...Development in recent years in American higher education argues persuasively against placing the management of all publicly supported education under a single organizational and administrative unit."

"The sheer amount of complexity of work, even if limited to policymaking functions and major decisions, is beyond the capacity of one administrative body or one board."

In McGrath's view, the proposed state board for higher education should have primary responsibility for "the total public effort in higher education."

PROPOSED DUTIES

As the board relates to the state colleges, its duties would include:

- Appointment of presidents for each college.
- Setting tuition and fees according to a standard plan.
- Projecting long range operating and construction needs of the colleges.
- Representing the 14 state colleges before the governor and the general assembly.

Veteran, 103, Gets Medal 80 Years Late

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — Tears welled in the eyes of Simpson Mann, 103, as he received the first of the 11 campaign medals being awarded to the 11 remaining men who fought in the Army against the Indians on the Western frontier.

"I'm proud to be the man pinning this medal to your blouse," said James F. Haile, director of the Wadsworth Veterans Administration Hospital.

"I'm very proud to receive this medal," said Mann, almost inaudibly.

The little ceremony was in Mann's room Wednesday.

Back in the late 1880s, he was a private in Troop F, 9th U.S. Cavalry. He is the oldest of the 11 survivors of the Indian campaigns.

Parents, Daughter Will Get Diplomas

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — Carol Ratliff will be joined in the Hobbs High School commencement diploma line May 25 by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ratliff.

The parents are joining their daughter, not as guests but as graduates, after completing work in night school.

Ratliff, a lumber company assistant manager, said he quit school as a junior to join the Navy. His wife, Mary, said she had quit school to marry Ratliff.

The McSherrystown Moose Lodge voted a $500 donation toward construction of the new Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Parochial School at McSherrystown, voted $100 to the March of Dimes and $50 to the McSherrystown Little League team sponsored by the lodge at its meeting Wednesday night. ## STATE TO USE 600,000 GALS. PAINT ON RDS.

The state Highway Department today said $2 million will be spent for painting 38,000 miles of highway in Pennsylvania this season.

A total of 600,000 gallons of paint will be used for center and edge lining and is equivalent to painting 20,000 average two-story houses, or circling the globe one and one-half times. Also to be used are four million pounds of glass beads to reflect the lines for night driving.

Already started, this service to motorists is being done by 11 paint trucks purchased by the department in 1961 at a cost of $22,000 each.

30-40 MILES DAILY

The machines normally have a crew of six men. Each crew lines an average of 30 to 40 miles daily, using between 500 and 600 gallons of paint.

The department said later this year two additional trucks valued at $35,000 each will be added to the fleet. They will use a special preheated paint which dries quickly, speeding operations in urban areas. The new method eliminates the expense and hazard of using paint guards.

NEW PICKUPS

Additionally, the department is investing $60,000 for 11 pieces of equipment known as magnetic pickups. The devices automatically collect steel base red flags used to protect fresh paint lines laid by conventional machines. This eliminates the hazard of manual pick-ups.

The lining program calls for 350,000 gallons of white paint and 250,000 gallons of yellow paint. Center lines will be painted on 23,000 miles and edge lines on 15,000 miles.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — An open letter home:

Dear Frances and Tracy:

I knew there was something strange about this war that made it different from other wars, and at last I have figured out what it is.

So far nobody over here has asked me for chewing gum, chocolate or a bar of soap. That never happened to me in any previous war. It is almost enough to make a fellow lose faith in the American way.

The kids here think chewing gum is strictly for the troops. What they beg for — even those only 6 or 7 — is cigarettes. They are friendly and quite lovable except for a bad habit of trying to steal your wrist watch as you walk along.

FAIREST OF GIRLS

Vietnamese girls have the reputation of being the fairest in the entire orient. They are slender, delicate-featured, and as graceful as little princesses in their bearing. Dressed in their native garb, they are as pretty as walking flowers.

So far I have not seen an enemy soldier, a distinction which I would just as soon keep for some time. My main battles have been with antique French plumbing and various forms of insect life that inhabit my hotel room but don't pay rent.

When I try to turn on a water faucet, it comes off in my hands. When I try to take a shower, nothing comes out but a torrent of rust. And when I tried to use another bathroom fixture it collapsed completely, and an overhead pipe fell and nearly brained me.

INSECT BITES

As to the insects, I am beginning to think I should have studied entomology instead of journalism. This morning I counted 87 assorted bites of all kinds on me, and went out and bought a mosquito net.

The room boys then held a union meeting and decided that putting it up was a two-day job for three men. This was my first experience with Oriental featherbedding. But the philosophy in this area seems to be "anything worth doing today is even more worth doing the day after tomorrow."

HUGE BEETLES

As I write you this, a bug about half the size of an armored carrier is crawling slowly across the floor toward my bed. I think he wants to take a siesta.

I know I should put up a fight, but frankly I don't think this beetle could be stopped with anything smaller than a 50-caliber machine gun. So I'm going to abandon the field of battle temporarily until I can get some outside help. For all I know, this bug could be a Viet Cong in disguise. He's certainly big enough.

This a war in which even a noncombatant feels he is a hero — merely in being here.

With much love from your suffering, bug-bitten husband and father, Harold.

P.S. Send me a bug bomb. A big, big bug bomb. Then I can counterattack.

CRUCIFIX STOLEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A silver altar crucifix, in the shape of a tree whose limbs form the crossbar and valued at $10,000 was reported stolen from St. Mark's Episcopal Church Wednesday. The Rev. Michael Becker, associate rector, told police the theft was detected Wednesday morning.

LUNK LANDS MOON, BUT NO SOFT LANDING

By FRED W. COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet spacecraft Lunik 5 hit the moon Wednesday night but apparently failed to make the expected soft landing that would have put the Soviet Union at least four months ahead of the United States in the lunar race.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that the 3,250-pound spaceship landed in the area of the Sea of Clouds at 10:10 p.m. (2:10 p.m. Eastern Standard time), ending its three-day flight five minutes ahead of schedule.

"During the flight and the approach of the station to the moon a great deal of information was obtained which is necessary for the further elaboration of a system for soft landing on the moon's surface," Tass concluded.

IS A "FAILURE"

Tass earlier had said that Lunik 5 would test for the first time elements of a soft-landing system. This was taken to indicate that the Soviets planned to land the spacecraft intact and that it would then radio back information from the moon's surface.

The landing report seemed the closest thing to an official admission to failure in the Soviet space program since the first sputnik made its trail-blazing flight eight years ago.

By saying information was sent back only in the approach, Tass indicated that the spacecraft had failed to lower itself gently onto the moon. This is the next vital step before a man can be landed on the lunar surface.

NEED RETROROCKET

Earlier moon shots by the Soviet Union and the United States have either crashed into the moon or passed by it.

Scientists have said a soft lunar landing would require braking by retrorockets to halt the descent of a spacecraft before impact. Sir Bernard Lovell of Britain's Jodrell Bank Radio Observatory commented: "We suspect, and it is nothing more than suspicion at the moment, that the retrorockets in the Russian moon rocket may have failed to fire."

Western observers suggested that the Tass reference to obtaining information for "the further elaboration" of a soft-landing system meant the Soviets had discovered what went wrong and hoped to avoid the trouble next time.

U. S. PROBLEMS

Problems with the braking-rocket system have been plaguing American scientists working on the Surveyor project which hopes to soft-land a spacecraft on the moon in September or October.

The United States had planned to get a Surveyor craft on the moon 18 months ago. But it ran into trouble with the stabilization motors which control the final stages of descent after the main retro has fired.

A soft landing would enable a space ship to take the first photographs from the moon's surface and radio them earthward. It might also show whether man can land on the moon in the type of space equipment now in existence.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. announced today that construction of a 765,000-kilowatt generating unit at its Brunner Island power plant below Harrisburg will be started in June of next year.

LIMITED OKAY FOR BUILDING AT PSU UNITS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania State University now has limited approval for its off-campus construction requests for the 1965-67 biennium.

The State Board of Education granted the limited approval during a meeting Wednesday in Harrisburg.

At the same time, the board deferred action on Penn State's projected construction program for the main campus at University Park.

FOR TEMPLE TOO

The board also approved some $43 million worth of construction at Temple University during the next two years; $15.6 million at Drexel Institute of Technology; $8.5 million at the University of Pennsylvania; $17.2 million at the University of Pittsburgh and $1.89 million at Lincoln University.

All projects would be built by the General State Authority with the schools paying the rental of the facilities under the policy established by Gov. Scranton last year.

Acting on the university's requested construction program at its 13 off-campus centers, the board gave full approval to projects at five centers — New Kensington; McKeesport; Du Bois; Ogontz; Mont Alto, $216,000.

However, in four other cases, it approved the projects on the conditions that should community colleges be established in these areas. The new facilities would be turned over completely to the colleges. They were York, Erie, Scranton and Altoona.

DECISIONS DELAYED

It did not make any recommendations on four other center requests pending further information on developments to establish a community college there: Bucks County; Harrisburg; Wyomissing, and Hazleton.

The board granted outright approval to these projects: New Kensington, $811,000; McKeesport, $1,251 million; Du Bois $373,000; Ogontz, $1,179 million; and Mont Alto, $216,000.

It gave conditional approval to these projects: York, $644,000; Erie, $752,000; Scranton, $751,000; Altoona, $751,000.

It withheld a recommendation on projects at: Bucks County, $119,000 for planning and design; Harrisburg, $51,000 for planning and design; Wyomissing, $1,068 million; Hazleton, $644,000.

STATE BOARD ASKS BIG SUM FOR COLLEGES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Board of Education is recommending that $279.5 million be sent aside in the next six years for capital construction at the 14 state colleges.

Included in this recommendation Wednesday was approval of a $109.9 million construction program at the colleges during the 1965-67 biennium.

The board also urged Gov. Scranton to insure that all agencies involved are equipped with sufficient staff personnel to launch construction once the projects are ready.

GSA PROJECT

The General State Authority would handle construction.

The 1965-67 biennium schedule was some $47 million higher than originally projected by the Scranton administration.

However, Charles G. Simpson, chairman of the council of Higher Education, said in presenting

Accused Murderer Placed In Center

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Richard Joseph Smith, 48, who fatally shot two fellow workers at the Philadelphia Naval Base in 1963, was committed by U. S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary to a federal medical center on Wednesday until "his sanity and or mental competency can be restored." That will require several years or more, psychiatrists testified. Smith was accused of killing John F. Besaw, 53, and Abraham Singletary, 49, both of Philadelphia, on Nov. 1963.

The report that Gov. Scranton had an open mind on the matter.

63,000 STUDENTS

The construction projections set following a series of meetings between Scranton, representatives of the state board, and three presidents representing the colleges.

The program as recommended by the board would be adequate to accommodate an additional 63,000—and possibly 65,000—students in five years, Simpson said.

The breakdown for the first biennium would have $46.5 million spent on instructional construction, with $36.8 million for dormitories. The remaining $26.4 million would be spent on service facilities and miscellaneous construction.

AMERICAN SPY FOR REDS GETS 30-YEAR TERM

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Glenn Thompson, the former Air Force enlisted man who confessed to spying for Russia for six years, was sentenced today to 30 years in prison.

The 30-year-old Long Island service station operator bowed his head and closed his eyes when he heard U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn say:

"The penalty prescribed is death or imprisonment for any term of years, or for life."

"The defendant was engaged during a period of six years here and abroad in undermining our national security. The consequences thereof are not readily determinable. It is clear that his criminal activities warrant severe punishment."

After that came the 30-year sentence.

Arrested last Jan. 7 at his service station at Babylon, N.Y., the 6-foot-2, 250-pound Thompson pleaded guilty March 8 to conspiring with two former members of Russia's U.N. personnel to steal U.S. military secrets.

His espionage began in West Berlin in 1957, shortly after an Air Force court-martial had busted him from airman first class to airman second class and fined him $67 for dereliction of duty. At the time he was a mail clerk in a military special investigations office.

Despite the court-martial, he continued to have access to information about military equipment and installations, missile sites, code books and intelligence activities, the FBI said.

McSherrystown has a new "skyline." Recently the old standpipe for the town was removed and a new reservoir-type water tower is being placed. The central "pole" portion of the tower, and the framework on which the huge tank will rest, has been constructed, with the crane used to lift the heavy parts placed on top of the tower, as shown in the picture taken Wednesday evening. A comparison in size can be made by comparing the tower structure with a utility pole in the foreground, and a Little League player in uniform, showing as a small white dot immediately in front of the huge structure. ## WILL DEDICATE ADAMS LODGE

Rev. Robert H. Stolte, pastor of Lohr's Memorial EUB Church, Hanover, will be guest speaker at ceremonies Saturday noon dedicating the farm owned by Hanover Lodge 69, Fraternal Order of Police, as a recreation site for youth groups in the area.

The 75-acre farm includes part of "Round Hill," a natural earth formation, near Hampton.

The dedication ceremonies will be part of a three-day spring

camporee and nature course of Conewago Boy Scout District.

Invocation will be offered by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert J. Maher, pastor of St. Vincent's Catholic Church, and benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Charles W. Coates, pastor of youth of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, both of Hanover.

Remarks will be offered by Hanover Mayor John C. Harman. The program will be in charge of Patrolman Witmer K. Trone, secretary of the police lodge.

The farm site, including antique stone house, farm pond, meadows and wooded areas, will be available to all youth groups in the area under adult supervision, for day and overnight activities.

A cooking contest among the Boy Scout campers for this weekend will be sponsored in memory of the late Robert S. Nickey Sr. by members of the Nickey family. Mr. Nickey was active in Boy Scout programs in this area and was wearer of the silver beaver, an honorary Scouting citation.

The Scouts' camporee and nature course activities will open with registration Friday at 4 p.m. and will close at retreat ceremonies Sunday at 3 p.m.

Individual medallions will be awarded to all those participating. Arrangements are in charge of the district activities and camping committees, Earl Weisensale and Ivan Hilyer, chairmen, respectively.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—Dr. Alfred M. Frankfurter, 59, of New York, editor of Art News and Portfolio and an authority on art and history, died Wednesday of a hemorrhage. Frankfurter was a member of Newsweek magazine's board of directors.

In Viet Nam, 10,000 tribesmen have been trained and armed by the U.S. Army Special Forces.

HOLD HONORS

International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, was the main speaker.

PRIZES AND AWARDS
Prizes and awards to Seniors for academic achievement were presented to 30 recipients by Dean Charles H. Glatfelter.

Dr. Hazlett, is a former executive president of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Co. During World War II and the Korean conflict he was in Washington as a member of the Steel Products Advisory Committees of several governmental agencies and the Department of Commerce.

Dr. Gilbert has had a distinguished career as a research chemist. He has obtained 33 U.S. patents and 132 in foreign countries. He is the recipient of a medal from the American Chemical Society. He served for years as a research chemist for the Du Pont Co.

GETTYSBURG NATIVE
Dr. Kadel, served as an Air Force chaplain in World War II and afterwards returned to Florida pastorate but resigned in 1958 to become organizing president of the new Florida Presbyterian College, a four-year liberal arts college. He is a Gettysburg native.

Sen. Beall served in the Maryland State Senate and State Roads Commission. He served six terms in the House of Representatives and in 1962 was elected to the U.S. Senate. He was re-elected in 1968.

"Education today does not guarantee success," Mr. Villanne said in his address. "Not even a college education means what it did even 20 years ago. On the other hand, lack of an education and failure to keep current with our expanding world is almost fatal today, economically speaking. During this past school year over 25 million adults were taking some kind of voluntary adult education course. Almost nine million were engaged in some form of systematic, independent self-education, including over four million correspondence students. And two million 650 thousand adults were enrolled as full-time students. All these people realize the need for further education."

"Business and industry also recognize the value of training and education and are pouring more than 18 billion dollars per year into training and educational assistance. They are not spending this money out of any philanthropic sense, but rather out of a sense of destiny—their destiny in the marketplace. Employers must keep pace with technological advances or a company will fail."

"For example, an official of the Westinghouse Corporation has indicated that a graduate engineer now has a half-life of about 10 years. That is, about half of what he has learned in college will be obsolete in just one decade. Further, half of what the same engineer will need to know 10 years from now is not even available to him today."

"I have tried to speak to you as one who is aware of the problems of the future, but not fearful for the future does not belong to the fearful. Likewise, the future does not belong to the indolent. The future will belong to those of you who resolutely move forward to increase your own potential.

"So far, your lives have disposed you to be docile. It is my sincere hope that you will continue to be so throughout the remainder of your lives. That you will never cease to be 'ready and willing to receive instruction,' for the world of today obliges you to constantly broaden the scope of your interests and the range of your knowledge."

TORRE HELPS BRAVES DUMP BUCS; REJECT $500,000 BID

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of years ago the only thing slim about Joe Torre was his chance of making the majors.

Now, however, the only thing fat about the Milwaukee catcher is his batting average and the offer the Braves turned down for his services.

CUBS WALLOP GIANTS

As a teen-ager with his eyes on the majors, Torre was in jeopardy of being overlooked by major league scouts, which would have been quite an accomplishment since he weighed 240 pounds and lacked speed.

Speed of foot still isn't Torre's main dish, but it's hard to fault a guy who trimmed his weight to 205 and last season lifted his average to .321 with 20 homers and 109 runs batted in. And this year's current .347 average goes along with seven homers and 14 RBIs.

While Torre was continuing his heavy hitting, Ron Santo belted a homer and two singles in the Chicago Cubs' 7-3 walloping of San Francisco, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 4-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 4-2 and the New York Mets downed St. Louis 2-1.

VICTORY FOR ELLIS

Torre hit his homer in the fourth inning against the Pirates, pulling the Braves into a 2-2 tie they cracked with a three-run seventh-inning uprising.

Santo was the big gun for the Cubs, rapping three of the five Chicago hits off Giant ace Juan Marichal in the seven innings he worked. Marichal lost his third game against five victories as San Francisco committed four errors behind him.

The Reds broke through against the Phillies, who had tied the score 2-2 on Richie Allen's homer, with a two-run seventh-inning comeback triggered by Tommy Harper's triple. A walk to Frank Robinson, Gordie Coleman's sacrifice fly and a double by Deron Johnson wrapped it up. Sammy Ellis got the victory for a 5-0 record with Jim O'Toole's relief help.

DODGERS WIN

Don Drysdale limited the Astros to six hits, including Walt Bond's homer in the ninth, while Ron Fairly provided the decisive blow for the Dodgers with a two-run single in the third inning that broke a 1-1 tie. Jim Lefebvre chipped in with a homer for Los Angeles.

Jack Fisher checked the Cardinals on five hits and outdueled Curt Simmons for the Mets' triumph. Simmons absorbed his fourth loss in five decisions when Ron Swoboda walked in the seventh inning and scored on a double by Bobby Klaus. The Cardinals had pulled into a tie in their half on Ken Boyer's homer.

Queen Elizabeth will perform the dedication ceremony.

MAY NOT RACE IN PREAKNESS

BALTIMORE (AP)—Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair became a questionable starter today in the 90th running of the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday when he turned up with a slight injury in his right hind leg.

"I am entering the horse," said trainer Frank Catrone after talking with his owner, Mrs. Ada L. Rice, in Chicago. "We'll have to wait on developments to see if he will start."

Catrone said the horse apparently nicked himself in a gallop Wednesday and this morning there was a swelling just over the ankle in the right hind leg.

The veteran trainer said he would not consider the injury serious, but the horse was too valuable to take any chances and he would await developments before deciding definitely if the colt will be in the lineup Saturday.

MAJOR LOOPS DRAW BETTER IN 1ST MONTH

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball attendance for the first month of the 1965 season was up 5.4 per cent over last year, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

The survey through Tuesday's games also reflected continued fan apathy in Milwaukee and Kansas City plus a resurgence in Houston where the Astros are playing in their new, enclosed stadium.

ASTROS DRAW BIG

Kansas City has averaged only 6,700 for 11 home dates. The aggregate of 74,405 is 16,425 under last season. The A's had the lowest home attendance in either major league in 1964—642,478.

The Astros have attracted 288,052 for 11 appearances in the 45,000-seat Astrodome for an average attendance of 26,000. In the 32,601-seat Colt Stadium a year ago the Houston club averaged 10,500 for the same number of dates.

The over-all big league attendance is 3,018,591 compared to 2,862,622 in the same number of 1964 dates. The National League shows an increase of 105,715 and the American is up 50,254.

BRET HANOVER EASY WINNER AT YONKERS

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Bret Hanover, harness racing's latest wonder horse with a perfect 26-for-26 record, seems to have pacing's Triple Crown at his mercy.

After his easy 3 1/2-length victory in the $125,236 Cane Futurity Pace at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night, competent horsemen agreed that the robust bay colt is far superior to his contemporary 3-year-old pacers.

That means no one expects him to have any trouble winning the Triple Crown by taking the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, and the Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway. The Cane was the first leg of the Triple.

TURNED DOWN OFFER

Veteran Frank Ervin drove the colt in a 2:01 mile for owner Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Bobby T. Knight finished second in the nine-horse field followed, in order, by Scarlet Wave, Gee Lee Hanover, High Level, Steady Move, Sykes Hanover, Tarport Prince and Adios Vic.

Before the race, Downing turned down an $850,000 offer for his colt.

KILLEBREW'S HITTING KEEPS TWINS ON TOP; YANKEES LOSE

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

That was no pop-gun Harmon Killebrew used on the Angels the second time around.

The Minnesota slugger beat Los Angeles 4-3 Wednesday night with his second home run of the game, a 450-foot, two-run shot in the eighth inning. The night before he had given the Twins a 3-2 victory over the Angels by caroming a drive off pitcher Dean Chance's leg in the ninth to send home the winning run.

The victory, fifth straight for the Twins and 16th in 23 starts this year, kept them in first place in the young American League race, one-half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who swept a two-night double-header from Kansas City 7-4 and 6-4. Boston blanked the New York Yankees 2-0. Detroit topped Washington 5-2 and Baltimore beat Cleveland 4-2 in other night action.

GETTING LATE START

Killebrew's decisive homer off Angel reliever Bob Lee cleared the center-field fence, scored Frank Kistner, who had walked, and pulled the Twins from behind. Killebrew had ripped a left-field circuit clout off rookie southpaw Rudy May, the Angels' starter, in the sixth.

The homers were the fourth and fifth for Harmon in his last 11 games after an anemic start. Killebrew led the majors with 49 homers last year and has led the league three straight seasons.

Los Angeles built a 3-2 edge going into the eighth on Albie Pearson's first-inning homer, Jose Cardenal's third-inning sacrifice fly and a run-scoring single by Joe Adcock—the 1-7,000th major league hit for the veteran first baseman—in the sixth. Jerry Kindall singled home the first Minnesota run in the third.

GRAND SLAM FAIR

Pete Ward's two-run homer in the seventh inning of the Chicago-Kansas City opener put the White Sox ahead to stay 5-4. Dick Green had hit the A's on top with a grand-slam homer in the fifth.

Don Buford, who also homered for the Sox in the first game, singled in one run and Floyd Robinson's pop-fly single delivered another in a sixth-inning rally that decided the nightcap. The Kansas City runs came on a three-run homer by Jim Gentile and Bill Bryan's solo shot.

Bill Monbouquette stopped New York on six hits and short-stop Eddie Bressoud hit a fifth-inning home run as the Red Sox beat Yankee ace Jim Bouton. Frank Malzone collected three of the five Boston hits and Lee Thomas singled in the other run in the sixth.

TIGERS REPEAT

Willie Horton, who had wrecked Washington the previous night with a home run and game-winning single, collected another homer and two singles to lead the Tigers past the Senators. Horton hit his fifth homer in the fourth inning, scored a run in the sixth and drove in another with an eighth-inning single.

Paul Blair's leadoff homer ignited a four-run, first-inning rally for Baltimore after Cleveland had scored twice in the top of the first. Dave McNally checked the Indians on two singles the rest of the way for his first victory of the season.

ROME (AP)—Parliament has outlawed all slot machines of chance. It ordered fines up to $72 and prison sentences of one month to two years for violators.

France Blocks U.S. Move To Have NATO Endorse Its Policy In Two Conflicts

By LOUIS NEVIN

LONDON (AP)—Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization headed home a day early today after averting an open split over American action in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

In a communique issued Wednesday night at the end of their annual spring meeting, the 15 NATO allies agreed that "grave threats have arisen to international security and peace" in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, Malaysia and some African nations.

In the same paragraph they "reaffirmed the right of all peoples to live in peace under governments of their own free choice."

IS COMPROMISE

The statement represented a compromise between U.S. desire for endorsement of its policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and French disapproval of those policies. Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to London Wednesday to put the U.S.

Bicentennial Year Events Open With CC Dinner; Dr. Stonesifer; Keefer Cited

Littlestown kicked off events of its bicentennial year with a 200th anniversary dinner Wednesday evening in St. Aloysius Hall when community service plaques were awarded to Dr. Howard A. Stonesifer, a Littlestown business man for 46 years, and to Roger J. Keefer, Littlestown borough secretary for 28 years.

The Littlestown Chamber of Commerce sponsored Wednesday's affair which was attended by about 140 persons. Marvin F. Breighner, Chamber president, presided as toastmaster and awarded the plaques.

Dr. Stonesifer, who was a druggist in Littlestown for almost half a century, and is currently chairman of the board of the Littlestown National Bank, and Mr. Keefer, a former partner in a meat market, were recognized by the Chamber of Commerce as two of the town's outstanding citizens.

BOTH RECEIVE PLAQUES

Both were presented with plaques with this inscription, "In sincere appreciation of a lifetime of service and devotion to our community." This is the second year that this honor has been bestowed. Last year's choices were Arthur E. Bair, who was present at Wednesday's affair, and Samuel E. Renner, who died within the last few weeks.

Dr. Stonesifer was proprietor of Stonesifer's Drug Store from 1902 when he bought it from Dr. Raymond S. Seiss, the town's first elected burgess, until 1948. He is a son of Abraham and Sevilla Hesson Stonesifer and his father, a businessman also, first owned a coopers and then a bakery. He is a charter member of the Rotary Club, its first president and still active. He is also president of Keystone Cabinet Company and served as president of the National Bank for 10 years prior to his election as chairman of the board in 1952. He is a lifetime member of Redeemer's Church.

Mr. Keefer is a son of Jacob and Laura Krumrine Keefer and his father was a borough official before him, having served as burgess. He was in the meat market business with his father and later with his brother, Walter. Together they were also in the coal business with William Souder. He was appointed assistant borough secretary in 1936 and assumed his present duties as secretary on April 27, 1937, following the death of Secretary Charles Mayers who had held the position for 37 years. Mr. Keefer also served as secretary of the Littlestown Authority Board, which group was responsible for the community's sanitary sewer system. He is a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

HEAR MISS SHEAFFER

Miss Rebekah Sheaffer, Bareville, Lancaster County, was guest speaker. She noted that the people of Littlestown are just near enough to the Mason and Dixon line to have a touch of southern hospitality. In her topic "Today," she emphasized that a sense of humor as something that needs to be developed in all walks of life in modern days to fight the growing tensions and to keep Americans laughing. Miss Sheaffer is a retired school teacher and the possessor of three degrees.

Additional entertainment was provided by the "Energetic Academics," who appeared in bicentennial costumes. Their selections were "Let Us Entertain You," "Some Enchanted Evening" and bicentennial lyrics written by Mary Altoft, to the tune of "Dear Hearts and Gentle People." The group includes Carolyn Kump, pianist; Judy Koontz, who announced the numbers; Joyce Kerchner, Linda Hess, Patti Little and Doreene Haines.

President Breighner introduced Representative and Mrs. Francis Worley, President of the Adams County Commissioners and Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert and representatives of the civic, service and fraternal organizations of the community. He also listed highlights of the forthcoming Bicentennial Celebration Week and about the community, noting that the Chamber of Commerce was the original sponsoring organization for the bicentennial, with the original committee appointed in January, 1962. Dr. Stonesifer is serving as president of the corporation formed and a five member executive committee makes final decisions on policy. There are 11 division heads and approximately 400 committee members working on the celebration plans, he said. He also noted that from the first school in Adams County, Littlestown has grown to three schools, four administrators, 59 teachers and over 1,400 students, with a 65 percent average of students continuing to higher education. Littlestown has the largest industrial payroll of any community in the county, paying over $5 million to 1,700 employees in 21 industries, he said. He listed the names of many individuals who dedicated their efforts toward community betterment through the years.

"TREMENDOUS RESPONSE"

He noted that a large variety of crops is grown in the agricultural section surrounding the community. Thirteen churches serve the spiritual needs of the citizens.

A roast beef dinner was served by the St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women following the Pledge of Allegiance and the invocation by the Rev. Graham T. Rinehart, president of the Littlestown Ministerium and pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Letters were read by Secretary Albert J. Bair from state Senator D. Elmer Hawbaker and U. S. Senator Hugh Scott, who had been invited to attend the banquet.

President Breighner spoke of the "tremendous response" of the people of the community have made to the bicentennial undertaking. He said one of the aims of the community undertaking is to "uncover new talent, new civic leaders."

As he presented the plaques to Dr. Stonesifer and Mr. Keefer he saluted their records of public service and noted that they "have not just been coupon clippers on the investments of their fathers."

ROTARY HOSTS SR. CITIZENS

Senior Citizens' Night was noted by the Littlestown Rotary Club at the dinner program on Tuesday evening in St. James' United Church of Christ, along the Harney Rd. Approximately 75 persons were in attendance, including the men of the community who are senior citizens and who were guests of the Rotarians. The meal was served by the women of the church.

Eugene Lavery, Harrisburg, of the Bell Telephone Company, presented a program on "Shot to the Moon." He lectured and displayed drawings showing how three astronauts would travel to the moon, conditions there, and their return, which would require a total of seven days to make the trip.

Musical entertainment consisted of selections by a vocal quartet from the Littlestown High School, "Quatr-Elles," composed of Peggy Myers, Jackie Elder, Martha Ritter and Diane Byers. Mrs. Edwin W. Elder accompanied the quartet.

The Rev. Graham T. Rinehart, of the community service committee, in charge of arrangements for the annual affair, presided. Visiting Rotarians introduced the Rev. Dr. James W. Moyer, Carlisle; William F. Railing and Mares Sherman, both of Gettysburg.

The board of directors announced the approval of two Littlestown High School boys of the Junior class to attend Rotary leaders' camp this summer. The classification and membership committee, composed of Roy L. Koontz, chairman; Frank E. Baschoar, Francis I. Gerrick, Clarence R. Reck and Howard A. Stonesifer will be in charge of the program for the meeting of the Rotarians next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel.

RECITAL ON FRIDAY

The Littlestown Jointure elementary instrumental music recital will be held in the Maple Ave. Elementary School auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Parents and friends are invited to attend. ### To Unveil Memorial To JFK Friday At Runnymede

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II will unveil Friday Britain's memorial to John F. Kennedy at historic Runnymede where 750 years ago the barons forced King John to sign the Magna Carta.

The memorial stands on hallowed ground. Britain's present-day personal and political freedoms are based on the Magna Carta.

Runnymede, a low-lying meadowland beside the River Thames, is 21 miles west of London.

JACKIE TO BE THERE
The queen will dedicate the memorial as the president's widow and the two Kennedy children, Caroline, 7, and John F. Jr., 4, look on.

A London newspaper, the Sun, said that when someone in the United States said to Mrs. Kennedy that surely she would not be taking the children to London, she replied:

"Why not? This is a solemn occasion and I want them to share it."

RUSK TO ATTEND

Included on the guest list for the unveiling are Sens. Robert F. and Edward M. Kennedy, and their sisters, Mrs. Peter Lawford and Mrs. Stephen Smith.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk—who arrived in London Wednesday to attend the ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—will represent President Johnson.

The ceremonies will begin at 1 p.m. with a musical program played by the band of the Irish Guards.

New Cleaning Compounds Fit Special Floor Needs

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Adams County Extension
Home Economist

Use the cleaning compounds and waxes designed for the type floors you have. Labels on the containers can serve as your guide.

Wood floors may be cleaned and waxed at the same time with a polishing wax that combines solvent and wax. The solvent gives the compound its characteristic odor.

You may use clean cloths or very fine steel wool to rub the polishing wax on the floor. Steel wool helps loosen stubborn spots and soil that is ground in to the wood. Use clean cloths to wipe up the solvent and loosened soil. Change cloths often and discard them when you've finished. For safety's sake, place soiled cloths in a tightly-covered container and keep outside the house.

A thin layer of wax remains after the solvent and soil are wiped from the floor. With a floor polishing machine or by hand, buff wax to a shiny, hard finish.

Clean composition floors with water and a mild soap. Use a self-polishing wax to protect them. Spread wax over the floor in a thin, even coat. If you wish, put a second thin coat on parts of the floor where traffic is heaviest. The wax in self-polishing waxes is combined with water. As wax dries, the water evaporates, leaving a shiny coating of wax that keeps no buffing.

KEEP FREEZER CLEAN

To avoid undesirable odors and prevent food contamination, keep your home freezer clean.

Excess frost on freezer walls or shelves reduces storage space and causes temperatures to rise several degrees. It also makes the freezer inconvenient to use.

Your freezer needs to be completely defrosted and cleaned at least once a year. The instruction book that came with the freezer will be your best guide. If you have misplaced the book, you may follow this procedure: Disconnect the freezer from the electric circuit, then remove all packages and stack in boxes, then cover with blankets.

Work rapidly. As frost and ice melt, remove from freezer walls with a rubber scraper or smooth-edged wooden paddle. A sharp metal scraper may damage walls. Wipe up water with heavy towels. Wash inside of freezer with a solution of two tablespoons of baking soda to a quart of water, then wipe with a cloth wrung in clear water. Allow to air dry, then connect the freezer. Let it run 30 minutes before putting in frozen food. When returning packages, place oldest ones on top in a chest type freezer or at the front in an upright type.

Partial defrosting may be needed several times during the year. To do this, scrape frost from sides of freezer with a dull tool, such as a putty knife. Remove loose frost, then dry sides and bottom of the unit. You won't need to take out food packages; you can stack them, then rearrange as you clean off frost. During partial defrosting, you can leave the current on.

GROOMING AIDS

Personal grooming and clothing care items are ideal graduation gifts for the young man.

A handsome soft traveling bag for socks and shoes should please almost any young man, especially if he plans to do some traveling. To tote along to campus or on vacation or business trips, he might welcome a travel kit containing a cologne in a suitable scent for him and soap. A travel clock will help keep the young man on schedule for his job, classes, or appointments.

A battery-powered vibrating hairbrush or an electric toothbrush could be just the item that's high on his "wish" list.

Aids for keeping his wearing apparel in good condition and ready for the occasion include a clothesbrush, a rack for ties, and shoe-shining equipment and supplies. An attractive case will keep his jewelry in one place and prevent it from getting scratched or lost.

Almost any men's clothing store or the men's wear department in other stores will provide you with a variety of items in various materials suitable for a young man.

Skater Sees Dad After 15 Years

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For 15 years, Czech-born skating star Aja Zanovva hadn't seen her father.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY TO MEET IN OHIO

NEW YORK—Six area churches representing the Presbytery of Carlisle will be among the 835 commissioners attending the 177th United Presbyterian General Assembly which meets May 20-26 in Columbus, Ohio.

The General Assembly, which meets annually, is the supreme governing body of the 3.3 million member denomination. Commissioners (voting delegates) are elected on the basis of one minister and one elder for every 8,500 communicant members of each of the church's 196 presbyteries. Among important issues that the commissioners will help determine are a position paper on racism, a revised Statement of Faith and reports on ecumenical relations with the Roman Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant churches.

The statement on racism, in essence, "repudiates as blasphemy and heresy racism and all its manifestations in the life of the church and its members."

A proposed Brief Contemporary Statement of Faith updates the denomination's theological beliefs in an attempt to be "the Church reformed and ever being reformed," according to Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the church's chief executive officer.

In the reports on ecumenical relations, a yearning for reunion with all Christians is stressed. Further steps toward reunion Roman Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant churches are recommended. Also to be acted upon are recommendations dealing with such issues as poverty, nuclear war, narcotics addiction, population control, urban renewal. A proposal to further extend the Presbyterian ministry into urban and rural pockets of poverty also will be debated.

In addition, some 20 overtures (requests for action) will be presented to the assembly. The first item of business, will be the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Dr. Edgar G. Hawkins, New York City. Candidates for this one-year term of office are the Rev. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Mo.; the Rev. Elmo Montag, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Beaver, Pa.; William P. Thompson, attorney of Wichita, Kan.

Mrs. Stahl, a graduate of Shippensburg State College, taught 21 years in Hanover schools. Miss Nace, a graduate of Millersville State College, taught one year at Biglerville, 34 years at Chambersburg and eight years at Clearview School for a total of 43 years.

Roosevelt Eyes N.Y. Campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 50-year-old son of the late president, says he still is interested in running for governor of New York next year.

Roosevelt told newsmen Wednesday that any Democrat could defeat Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who has announced he'll seek a third four-year term.

President Johnson announced earlier this week he is shifting Roosevelt from undersecretary of commerce to chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Clarify Cause Of Diarrhea Epidemic

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Nearly a third of the 400 infants who became ill during a diarrhea epidemic in Newark last fall got the disease while hospitalized for other reasons, the State Health Department said today.

Twenty-eight infants died in the epidemic. The report said a thorough investigation by health officers indicated that more than "30 per cent of the cases being manifested during or immediately following hospitalization for an unrelated illness supports the hypothesis that the hospital was an important reservoir in the transmission of this disease."

A high rate of exchange of patients, physicians and nurses between Newark hospitals would allow for rapid spread of the epidemic, the report said.

Control measures included proper isolation and aseptic techniques, and antibiotic therapy.

TEACHERS ARE DINNER GUESTS

Stahl, who retired last June as teachers in the Hanover School District. Each was presented an engraved plaque by Jack H. Schuler, chairman of the Chamber's education committee.

Mrs. Kauffman, a graduate of Shippensburg State College, taught one year in Maryland, three years at Parkville, one year in Montgomery County, three years at Midway, 16 years near Littlestown and eight years at Park Hills, for a total of 32 years.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
How often have you heard a woman say, "I don't know why I keep gaining weight. I eat like a bird?"

More likely she eats like a horse! That is not to say she fibs, but rather that she deludes herself into believing she eats but little. Most heavy people harbor a delusion about why they can't lose weight. Were the fancies weeded out from the facts, there would be fewer reducing failures. Let's work on that.

Entirely false is the notion that as you grow older, it is natural to put on weight. The idea was exploded some years ago, yet it persists. New studies show that with each passing decade, after the midtwenties, you actually need less and less food to keep your body ticking and energized. Unneeded food, of course, converts to fat.

To exemplify, an active woman of 55" at age 25 requires 2,200 calories daily to maintain normal vigor and weight. At 65, her ration drops to 1,700 calories. Obviously, if she were to eat the same amount of food in latter years as in youth, she would become a roly poly—a condition hazardous to both health and trim looks.

So let's face the truth: You are what you eat. Ideal adult weight never varies. The variant is the number of calories it takes to maintain ideal weight.

Reduce without starving! Send for my purse-sized booklet, "DIET AND LIKE IT," which includes: Shortcuts to dieting; a calorie calculator; simplified menu planning; your model weight. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dunbar, Ill., enclosing 20 cents in coin and a LARGE, SELF-ADDRESSED, STAMPED ENVELOPE.

Boyhood Home Of LBJ Restored, Open To Public

By FRANCES LEWINE
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The little white frame house of the Victorian era is full of nostalgic memories which Lyndon Baines Johnson is now sharing with the public.

From his picture in an "ice cream parlor chair" at the age of 18 months, to the presidential seal, it tells his story — boy and man.

"Dreaming of a radiant future for you," his mother, Rebekah Baines Johnson wrote in a letter to her son, Lyndon, on his 1934 honeymoon.

FAMILY COLLABORATED

"I'm not going to be the black sheep of the family after all," said the man who was to be president of the United States as he jubilantly wrote home of his acceptance on the college debating team.

Johnson's family, his wife, Lady Bird, and particularly his antique-minded younger sister, Lucia Johnson Alexander, participated in the labor of love — a year and a half effort to restore the President's boyhood home as it was when he lived there in his school days from about 1913 to 1926. They gathered all the family furnishings they could and bought antiques and reproductions to fill in.

Today, the Texas Historical Society places the official medalion on the modest rural home of Johnson's boyhood, making it an historic landmark and opening it to the public four days a week.

JUST OFF HIGHWAY

A one-block detour off Texas Highway 290 brings the visitor to the one-story Johnson home on a quiet residential street. The house has two ell-shaped front porches, and in the front yard are two old arbutus trees and a covered well with an oaken bucket. The grounds are planted with a wide variety of typically Texas flowers and shrubs.

A spokesman for the Johnson family said no figure could be given on the cost of the restoration, but that it was paid for by the Johnsons. The house is being operated by the Johnson Family Foundation.

OLD REPORT CARDS

The browsing visitor can look over such memorabilia as Johnson's fourth-grade report card, showing all A's for the month of March 1917 — except for deportment in which he got C-plus.

While deportment plagued him at age 8, a nearby memory case holds his Silver Star Medal, awarded for "gallantry in action" on duty as a Navy commander in World War II.

The "This is Your Life" oratory is dear to the President's heart. Just stepping into the house, with its collection of Eastlake Victorian furniture, Bristol glass lamps hanging from ceiling chains, Brussels lace curtains, and knick-knacks, sets him off on remembrances.

Recently, he regaled reporters for more than an hour with fond, but off-the-record stories of his father, Sam Ealy Johnson, a tall, rugged rancher, lawyer, real estate trader and six-term Texas legislator; and his cultured mother, Rebekah Baines, a college graduate who taught school and gave lessons in elocution and public speaking.

AFFECTION DRAMATIZED
In an old-fashioned revolving bookcase of family volumes there are childhood storybooks, one inscribed to Lyndon "From Mama."

The dining room, with its gateleg table and pineapple-pattern centerpiece crocheted by

Grandmother Baines, reminds the family how "everybody in the town knew Mrs. Johnson set a good table." Her specialties included dewberry cobbler, fried chicken, spoon bread and turkey dressing which Lady Bird recalls as "the best I ever ate."

One thing dramatized by the restoration is the deep mutual affection of Rebekah Baines and her oldest son, Lyndon. It shows in a number of their letters which are displayed.

Congratulating "My Darling Boy" on his election to Congress for the first time in 1937, Mrs. Johnson wrote that the theme of her many letters to her son had been: "I love you; I believe in you; I expect great things of you."

LETTER TO MOTHER

On his side, Lyndon told his mother what her letters meant to him. Writing from Southwest Texas State Teachers College in 1929, he said:

"Your letters always give me more strength, renewed courage and that bulldog tenacity so essential to the success of any man. Now when one is delayed, a sell of sadness and disappointment is cast over me."

Adding to the Johnson legend are scores of photographs, treasured by the family, and some contributed by neighbors. They show Lyndon in his first long trousers, amid his school chums, including one of his first sweethearts, Kittie Clyde Leonard. He used to take her to the old Opera House cinema to watch silent films.

CAMPAIGNS DEPICTED

Lyndon's political campaigns are depicted from front-porch speeches here to front-page headlines. And, his wife has provided an intimate "personal life" collection of family color photos she took herself.

A big leather Bible contains pages from two old family Bibles with hand-written entries of births and deaths, one dated 1867. It also contains a sign of the times — an illuminated manuscript page with a "temperance pledge."

Not everything is as it was in the modest family home built in 1886. In restoring the place on a tract of about two acres surrounded by a three-rail fence of Mexican juniper, two partitions were knocked out, throwing the one-time "best bedroom," the entrance hall and dining room together into one large room.

The one spot that remains "the just as it used to be part of the house," is the front parlor, with its hooked rug and Victorian furniture in "rosedust" pink velvet. The President made the final choice of its flowered print wallpaper.

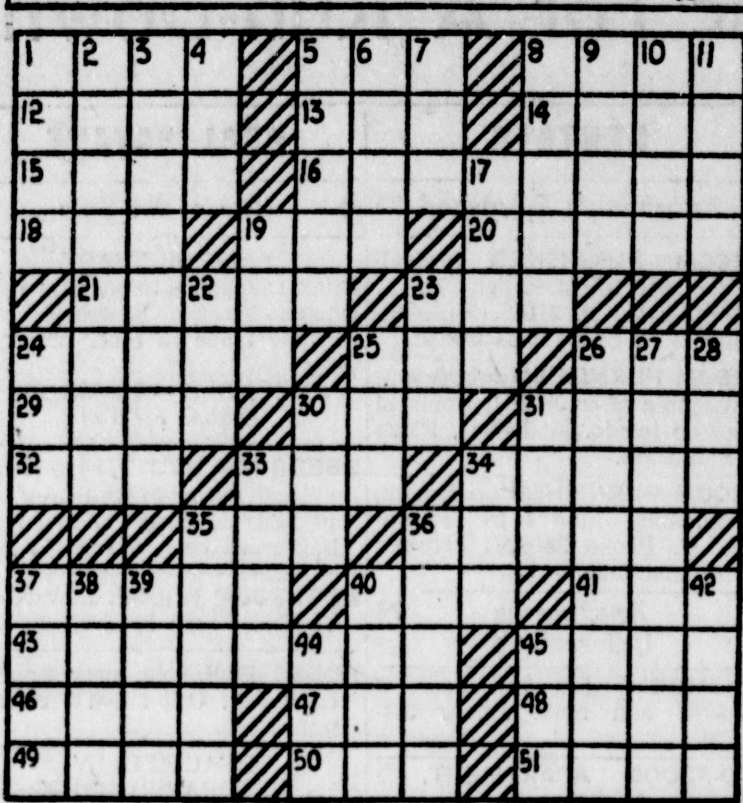

The house is air-conditioned, its kitchen modern and — in typical LBJ style — it is wired for sound. Hi-fi, AM and FM radio and Muzak are available at the flick of a switch.

When the tourists aren't there, the house will be available for meetings of local civic groups.

Senate Policy Is Scored By Udall
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said today if corporations operated like Congress "the oldest janitors would be running the show."

Udall made the remark in testimony prepared for a Senate-House committee studying congressional reorganization. The object of his scorn was the seniority system of selecting committee chairmen.

Handling Of Wilma Soss Case Heartens Tycoons

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Wilma Soss was lugged bodily out of the Communications Satellite Corp. stockholders meeting Tuesday — screaming, protesting and waving at the cameras — some kind of an era ended.

Or maybe an era began.

The tycoons of American industry seem to be fighting back, after years of being harassed by small groups of perennial hecklers.

Across the land, board chairmen have taken a brace. Many are firmly insisting, for instance, that stockholders talk about the corporate business under discussion. And that they wait for their turn speak. And that they let other stockholders get a word in edgewise.

TAKES COURAGE
For the board chairman, this takes some kind of courage. His company's "stockholder relations" are as important as its public relations. Every management wants to be considered kind, attentive and responsive to questions and complaints, even if the complainer owns only one share.

The little stockholder, in short, has a mighty voice. But managements and rank and file stockholders have been showing irritation when, year after year, at every annual meeting of every big company, the loudest voices are also nonstop, out of order, irrelevant and sometimes augmented by tin horns and whistles.

"MUST BE STOPPED"
Seven months ago investment banker Sidney J. Weinberg decided it was time to speak up. (It's fairly safe for him now; at 73 he holds only five major directorships, having resigned 20 or 30.) He made a speech to about 100 corporation chairmen and presidents at the Business Council meeting in Hot Springs, Va.

"The chief cause of this deterioration, in my opinion, are a relatively few publicity-seeking characters who attend stockholders' meetings primarily to ask impertinent, irrelevant, sometimes abusive questions," Weinberg said.

"I think this kind of behavior must be stopped right now before stockholders lose respect for management."

ACTING WITH FIRMNESS
The notoriety won by some hecklers, he said, has encouraged newcomers to take up the hobby.

Today, Weinberg reports, a good many board chairmen are firmly squelching the disorderly. Meetings have regained some decorum. "The situation is much improved," he says.

Indeed, even Mrs. Soss, the off-heard voice of the Federation of Women Stockholders in American Business and such other noted meeting-goers as Lewis Gilbert and Evelyn Davis have met some setbacks lately. Last September, at Comsat's first annual meeting, Gilbert, Mrs. Soss and horn-toting Mrs. Davis squabbled with each other for the floor, shouted when their microphones were cut off and incensed 1,500 other stockholders to the point of booing, jeering and clapping to drown them out.

PINKERTONS MOVED IN
They helped prolong the meeting for nine hours, and were still there when most other shareholders had given up and gone home.

On Tuesday, blue-uniformed Pinkerton special police were much in evidence at Comsat's second stockholders' meeting. When Mrs. Soss' first speech was ruled out of order, setting off a clamor by Gilbert and Mrs. Davis, the Pinkertons moved in.

When Mrs. Soss declined to leave under her own power, a husky Pinkerton picked her up and carried her down the aisle and out the door. Two Pinkertons propelled Gilbert out the same exit.

TO WORK GOLD MINE CLAIM TO PAY SCHOOLING
By HEDLEY BURRELL
MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Steve Deakins is going back to Alaska Thursday — to work a gold-mining claim he hopes will yield enough to put him through college.

Deakins, 20, is joint owner of the claim, near Anchorage, with Ed Bowers, a geologist and licensed prospector and a friend of the Deakins family.

"We traveled around Alaska and the Yukon before staking the claim," he said. "The United States and Canada have an agreement that allows Americans to file claims in the Yukon and Canadians to prospect on American soil."

QUAKE RUINED IT
Bowers previously had a claim but last year's earthquake destroyed it. He returned with Deakins to start work from scratch.

Deakins says he will be in Alaska about 4½ months this year. He and Bowers hope to build a cabin while working their claim.

He plans to return to Georgia next winter and enter college where he would like to major in geology and then go back to Alaska.

Deakins says: "Many kids go right to college without being really sure of what they want to do. That's when a lot of them begin flunking out. I think I will

NO JUMPERS

Claim jumpers? They're no problem, reports Deakins. There is nobody around particularly interested in "jumping," he said.

The son of a minister, the Rev. H. B. Deakins of Olive Springs Baptist church in Marietta, the younger Deakins attended Osborne High School.

How did he happen to go to Alaska? Bowers, when he was due to return last summer, offered him an air ticket to Anchorage if he would lend a hand.

Deakins says he accepted eagerly. "It's a great country," he declared.

To Enter Race For New York Mayor

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. John V. Lindsay, supported by top Republican leaders, was expected to announce today his candidacy for mayor against three-time Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in next November's election.

Lindsay, 43, a native New Yorker, has rolled up a liberal record as representative of the 17th Congressional District in Manhattan.

Lindsay, who refused to support Barry Goldwater for president, was re-elected last year by more than 90,000 votes. President Johnson carried the same district by more than 70,000 votes.

When you make a small-size cake, use a small-size bowl; then if the ingredients have to be beaten, they'll come up high enough to get good action from the beater.

Adding small white onions to a veal or roast beef? They'll taste delicious if you brown them in butter or oil in a skillet before turning them into the meat pan.

STATE TO GET $42 MILLIONS IN U.S. FUNDS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania is scheduled to get projects totaling more than $42 million under the federal Appalachian program, according to Gov. Scranton.

The Appalachian Regional Commission has earmarked this amount for the Keystone State, Scranton said Wednesday.

Pennsylvania and 10 other states are to benefit from a $1.1 billion measure signed into law last March by President Johnson. The measure is designed to pump new economic life into Appalachian states.

STRIP MINE WORK

Under the anthracite mining program, the governor said, the state will receive the entire amount that had been set aside for sealing and filling mine voids and extinguishing underground mine fires.

The total project is more than $15 million, of which 75 per cent is federal money and 25 per cent state matching funds.

In the bituminous area, the state will receive $1,519,141 for strip mine reclamation. This includes a state contribution of about $350,000.

For the development highway program, which involves 55.4 miles, the state received $9,204,000 for the right of way acquisition and preliminary engineering along Route 219. The total project will cost more than $13 million, with state matching funds.

OTHER PROJECTS

The Regional commission also released $4,954,000 to complete the final link to the Johnstown Bypass—a total of 3.1 miles. The project will total more than $7 million with the state's contribution, and will be ready for bids June 25.

The state received $1,172,500 under the access highway program—roads leading to and from industrial plants and recreational areas.

Other projects and amounts allocated to the state: —$2,025,000 for supplements to existing grants-in-aid programs. This means the federal contributions for several existing programs will be increased up to 80 per cent.

—$801,000 for sewage treatment plants and $776,000 for vocational education buildings.

Santiago Suffers Impact Of Dominican Revolution

EDITOR'S NOTE — Reports of the rebellion in the Dominican Republic have told mostly of the effect on Santo Domingo, the capital. AP Special Correspondent William L. Ryan is now touring the interior. Here is his first report.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

SANTIAGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Every evening at sundown this "second capital" of the tortured little Dominican Republic becomes suddenly, eerily silent.

For almost three weeks a "toque de queda" — a tight curfew — has been in effect from 6 p.m. until morning.

Santiago is a city of restlessness, of anxiety, of worry about when the next blow will fall. The fighting, the bloodshed, the excitement has been in Santo Domingo.

But there is more to the Dominican Republic than Santo Domingo, and the rest of the nation has suffered from the impact of the events in the capital.

ECONOMY HIT HARD

The economy of Santiago, Puerto Rico, the nation's second port, La Vega and others in the breadbasket area of the republic has been hard hit. It had been in trouble even before the explosion in the capital. Now it faces prospects of crisis and possibly violence should the situation in Santo Domingo remain long unresolved.

The April 24 coup in the capital — staged in the name of constitutionalism and with the announced intention of restoring elected President Juan Bosch to the office from which he was ousted in 1963 — was hailed by crowds in the streets of Santiago.

Says Latin America Is Red Test Area

By JOHN F. WHEELER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman today blamed the situation in the Dominican Republic on a Soviet-Chinese ideological split where both sides "are attempting to prove its methods promise the fastest and surest road to communism."

Harriman told a student convocation here: "Moscow seemingly wants to outdo in Latin America what Peiping is trying to achieve in the Far East."

"The most recent example is in the Dominican Republic where Cuban-trained Communist activists infiltrated and exploited a democratically motivated rebellion."

Harriman, speaking on the Chinese-Soviet split, said the competition between the two countries "is increasing the dangers to the free world."

ago with noisy jubilation. Then came the reckoning.

In a manner which suggested to many the hand of leftist extremists of the Castro stamp, crowds of young men possibly 2,000 strong marched toward the Fortaleza, the armed forces headquarters. As crowds did in Santo Domingo, these youngsters loudly demanded arms.

Passions were worked up to a fever pitch by Radio Norte. Young men regarding the word constitution with sentiment and emotion were exhorted in violent terms to break into the army headquarters if necessary and seize weapons.

AVERTED BLOODSHED

If they had succeeded, there would have been a bloodbath in Santiago, say those in a position to know. They almost did. It was touch and go while army officers judged the situation and possibly while they weighed which side was likely to win in Santo Domingo.

In the end, the officers stood firm.

Troops moved into Radio Norte on April 27. They ran into armed resistance and killed four men.

Radio Norte was dismantled and put out of business. The curfew was clamped on the city.

PROPOSES PA. BUILD 2 NEW UNIVERSITIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee has proposed creation of two new state universities from scratch in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to accommodate some 30,000 students each.

"This is an absolute must," declared Rep. Martin P. Mullen, D-Philadelphia, as his committee examined the budget requests of the University of Pittsburgh.

Mullen's proposal, which he said would take the form of legislation sometime in the future, opposes the thoughts of many members of the legislature who advocate conversion of existing schools such as Pitt, Temple or Indiana State College into state universities.

Mullen said each new university probably would cost the state some $75 million initially, to be financed by the General State Authority, Pennsylvania's so-called borrow and build agency.

However, Chancellor Edward Litchfield of the University of Pittsburgh rejected the idea that new state universities would solve all the problems of higher education.

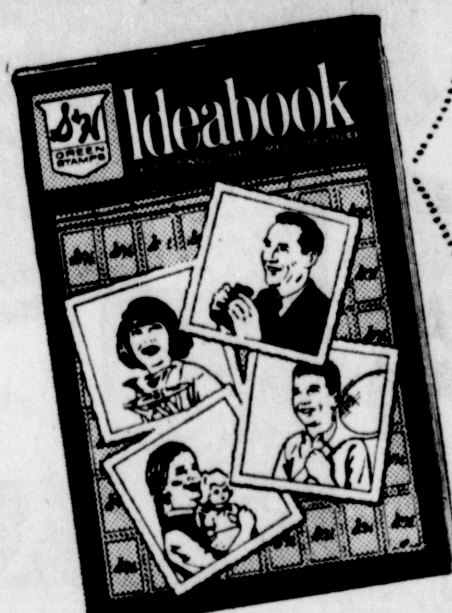

He also questioned the feasibility of a state university in western Pennsylvania to accommodate as many as 25,000 to 35,000 students. Noting that only a few universities go over that figure in the whole country, Litchfield said:

"The number of high school graduates who are capable of or want to go into the university level of higher education is much smaller than the figure of 25,000 to 35,000 students. You would be closer to the ball park if you talked about the entire state." Mullen said the need for low cost state universities is absolutely essential to provide higher education for the thousands of boys and girls who can't go to college because of a lack of finances.

JOHNSON COROLLARY
Prompt Action A Triumph For LBJ
OAS Acceptance Brightens Future

THE CRISIS in the Dominican Republic has been a triumph for President Johnson's forthright diplomacy.

Old idealists of the World War II era view LBJ's intervention with loud alarm.

In their eyes it is a wanton return to the Gunboat Diplomacy of Theodore Roosevelt, prior to World War I. This is far short of the truth.

None of Teddy's gunboats ever landed more than a party of armed sailors and a few platoons of marines.

In a much shorter length of time, 19,000 paratroopers and marines were saving unnumbered lives by bringing order out of anarchy.

There is but one comparable precedent of such massive joint action by Navy, Marines and the Army. It was by President Woodrow Wilson at Vera Cruz, 1914.

THE DETAILS of that incident are different, but the fundamental situations were much the same.

Wilson was alarmed by the murderous excesses of a conservative counter revolutionist, El Presidente Huerta.

Accordingly he withdrew from Vera Cruz as soon as Huerta's defeat by Carranza and his field general, Pancho Villa, appeared to be certain.

One way or another the two of them turned out to be worse than Huerta. Wilson regretted having smiled upon them. Brig.

Gen. John J. Pershing's Punitive Expedition, deep into Mexico with an army task force of over 14,000 was the result.

Because he failed to capture Pancho Villa, many have said Pershing's expedition was a failure. The fact remains that the murderous banditry along the Mexican - American boundary ceased.

The principal difference between Woodrow Wilson's problem and that of LBJ is the existence of the OAS, or Organization of American States.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S Caribbean policy is obviously no return to the gunboat diplomacy of Teddy Roosevelt. It has much more in common with the massive determination of Woodrow Wilson.

Though it was not perfected until 1948, the OAS is an outgrowth of how Franklin D. Roosevelt's Vice - president Henry Wallace and Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles thought the details of a "Good Neighbor Policy" should be.

Incidentally, neither Wallace nor Welles can document a serious claim to any form of realistic statesmanship.

In the interest of "collective security" Welles and Wallace thought each of the 21 members of the permanent council representing the member nations would have complete equality of voice and vote. Therein the vote of Ecuador counts for as much as that of the U.S.A.

Opposition High To Transfer Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislative attempts to strip the Revenue Department of its power to collect bills and certify patient eligibility at state mental hospitals appeared all but dead today in the House.

A bill that would have transferred the functions of the Revenue Department to the Department of Public Welfare was recommitted Tuesday to the Committee on Health and Welfare amid reports that opposition was running high.

Rep. John Gailey, D-York, the chairman of the committee and principal sponsor of the bill, said he was uncertain whether he would attempt to revive the bill.

Democratic leadership said, however, the bill had little chance of survival this year.

Americans bought 9.3 million television sets last year.

Moreover, the final document for the OAS stipulated in Article 15, that there was to be no intervention within a member state, "for any reason whatsoever" by another member or group of members. Article 17 says no member state is to be occupied militarily for any reason.

THESE WERE the provisions of the charter that for 17 years hampered Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy in forthright action toward Western Hemisphere security. They paved the way for Castro.

President Johnson boldly chose to ignore the foregoing provisions and then to square it, if he could, with the OAS.

His success late last Friday, by vote of 14-to-5, (two-thirds vote required), is a diplomatic victory of the first magnitude. Venezuela, the one abstaining vote, stood on technical grounds. That nation offers to participate in the creation of a police force for occupation of the Dominican Republic by the member nations of the OAS.

The pundits are now pondering the proposition as to whether we now have a Johnson Doctrine in lieu of the Monroe Doctrine. The answer is no. The evolution of the doctrine from the days of Monroe remains the same.

By what the historians of the future are likely to call the Johnson Corollary, LBJ has breathed into the Monroe Doctrine a new life and a new vitality.

A bald statement of the new corollary would read:

"I'll advise and embarrassing documentary considerations notwithstanding, the necessary actions for security from European interventions within the Western Hemisphere must be prompt and must prevail. Furthermore, this Hemisphere is as closed to the pretensions and aspirations of modern Communistic imperialism as it was to the equally undesirable Old World, monarchistic imperialism that created World War I."

The action of the OAS by a two-thirds vote, is a de facto acceptance by Latin America of this Johnson Corollary. To all practical purposes, the OAS charter has been amended. It is a triumph for Johnsonian diplomacy.

NEW PATTERN EMERGING IN WEST GERMANY

By CARL HARTMAN
 BONN, Germany (AP) — A new political pattern may be emerging in West Germany to give Willy Brandt and his Socialist party their first taste of national power in over a generation.

The new setup would be a partnership between the Socialists and Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats, who have dominated the country ever since West Germany acquired its own government after World War II. The Socialists have not held a national Cabinet post since before Adolf Hitler took power in the early 1930s.

A shift probably would mean Brandt's taking over either the chancellorship or the Foreign Ministry this fall. He now is mayor of West Berlin.

DOOR NOT SHUT

Many Christian Democrats oppose such a partnership, particularly ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who still is the nominal party leader. But they may be forced into it, and Erhard has tried not to shut the door on it.

Just this kind of partnership seems to be forming in Lower Saxony, one of West Germany's largest states. Under the parliamentary system practiced there, coalitions are necessary when no single party controls a clear majority in the legislature.

The same system applies on state and national levels.

In Lower Saxony the Socialists happen to be the biggest party, but they have no majority. They have been governing with the help of the smaller Free Democratic party.

TEAM BREAKING UP

Now this local team is breaking up. The Free Democrats are refusing to go along on an agreement with the Vatican about Church schools, since they traditionally stand for separation of church and state.

With national elections coming up Sept. 19, many Free Democrats also feel they can make a better showing by going into opposition.

Georg Diederichs, the Socialist prime minister of Lower Saxony, is having to turn to the Christian Democrats. He is offering them a handful of influential Cabinet posts in return for their support in the legislature, where they will be glad to approve the agreement with the Vatican. On the national level, the Christian Democrats are the biggest party in Parliament, but they have no clear majority either. They too have been in partnership with the Free Democrats.

The strength of the three parties may be different after the election. At the moment, Brandt's Socialists seem ahead of the Christian Democrats. They may turn out to be the biggest party in the new Parliament.

Even if the Christian Democrats hold their present plurality, Erhard and his friends may decide that their partnership with the Free Democrats on the national level will not give them enough votes. It is not considered practical in Germany to govern with a tiny majority, as Prime Minister Harold Wilson does in Britain.

Partnerships between Socialists and Christian Democrats are unusual in West German state governments. If leaders in Lower Saxony can make it work, it may take on a new allure in national politics.

Lightest weight ever carried by a Kentucky Derby winner was the 97 pounds shouldered by Vagrant, 1876 winner. The weight included jockey Bobby Swim.

Deer Orphanage In Italian Park

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — So many baby deer are being abandoned by their mothers that a deer orphanage has been opened for them in the Stelvio National Park. Park Gamekeeper Paolo Andio says one reason the deer are abandoned is that they wander away from their mothers and are petted by campers. When the deer return to his mother she smells the human-scent and refuses to care for the baby.

There are 223 political parties in the Congo.

Rebel Chief Meets First U.S. Envoy; Vows Republic "Will Not Step Backward"

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno met a U.S. representative for the first time since the Dominican rebels named him provisional president, then vowed Tuesday night he would not "take a step backward."

Caamaño conferred at his headquarters with former Ambassador John Bartlow Martin, President Johnson's special envoy. The talk aroused speculation that the rebel leader would meet soon with Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, president of the rival civilian-military junta.

SEES SETTLEMENT

Msgr. Emanuele Clarizio, papal nuncio to the Dominican Republic, sat in on the talk between Caamaño and Martin and said later he was "highly optimistic" of a settlement of the 17-day-old civil war.

Caamaño, however, in an address over the rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo said: "I will not take a step backward in spite of the enormous U.S. force."

He derided the junta as "an inoperative force" and charged anew that President Johnson sent 20,000 soldiers and Marines to the Dominican Republic on the false assumption that the country was threatened by a Communist takeover.

DEMANDS PURGE

Caamaño has refused to meet with Imbert until he purges several leading officers from the armed forces. His chief foe is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, commander of the San Isidro training base, who directed the forces that opposed Caamaño's rebel forces.

U.S. Embassy officials said Monday that Wessin had agreed to resign but later changed his mind. Imbert said Tuesday he would accept Wessin's resignation "if it is his wish."

The unofficial total of American dead in the Dominican Republic rose to 14.

AMERICANS WOUNDED

A U.S. Army lieutenant was killed and seven other paratroopers were wounded Monday night when they were caught in sniper crossfire. The rebels contended the paratroopers were five blocks outside the U.S.-policed international safety zone. A U.S. spokesman said they were inside the zone.

U.S. forces brought up a 106mm field gun and blasted two rooftops where the snipers were believed hidden. At least two Dominican civilians were reported wounded.

A rebel spokesman charged that U.S. troops have killed 22 unarmed civilians and wounded 11 since May 3.

The Organization of American States ordered part of its peace mission back to the Dominican Republic from Washington in a new effort to find a settlement.

Abandon Search For Scientist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Searchers in Antarctica have called off temporarily their efforts to find Carl Robert Disch, 26, who became lost Saturday in blowing snow and 45 below zero temperatures.

The Monrovia, Wis., scientist apparently lost his way after leaving a small radio substation for the main Byrd station a mile away.

An eight-man search party, working in two vehicles, went over a 55-square-mile area around the two sties without locating Disch. The group said it would resume the search when weather and visibility improve.

The 18th USGA Junior Amateur golf championship will be played Aug. 3-7 over the south course of the Wilmington Country Club, Wilmington, Del.

YOUNG POINTS TO WAGE ACT

HARRISBURG (AP) — With summer construction about to begin, Secretary of Labor and Industry William P. Young is asking builders and contractors to adhere more closely to the 1961 prevailing wage act.

Young said in a memorandum to contractors Wednesday that there is an increasing number of violations.

"Pennsylvania's prevailing wage act," Young said "provides for the secretary of labor and industry to determine the general prevailing wage rate in the locality in which a public work, paid by public funds, is to be performed in construction, reconstruction, demolition, alteration or repair work, other than maintenance in excess of $25,000. This does not apply, however, to work performed under a rehabilitation or manpower training program.

"Penalties could amount to $2,500 or up to five years' imprisonment. Additionally, repeated violations could bar builders or contractors from public work projects in the state."

New Bill Reduces Tax-Free Liquor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has approved legislation to sharply cut tourists' privileges of bringing in duty-free goods—especially liquor.

The committee included in the bill Tuesday President Johnson's proposal to reduce the amount of goods tourists can bring in from $100 wholesale value per person to $50 retail value.

The liquor restriction would limit to one quart the duty-free import, and it would apply only to persons over 21. At present, all members of a party—including infants—are entitled to bring in one gallon duty-free.

PENNSYLVANIA
Pennsylvania approaches the 1965 primary next Tuesday with the 1964 general election still a matter of unfinished business.

The state Board of Education is pondering a special report which recommends establishment of a new and separate state board to handle public higher education in Pennsylvania.

Halleck Has New View Of Capitol From Splendor Of Rayburn Office Building

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The view from Charlie Halleck's window is very different these days.

He looks up at the Capitol dome from across the street now, instead of sitting under it in the inner sanctum of the House Republican leader's office, as he did for six years.

The view is magnificent, but it takes some getting used to for the "gut-fighter" from Indiana.

It should be magnificent, because Halleck had first pick of all the choice offices in the new Rayburn House Office Building.

HAD TO MOVE ON

That was because he was voted out of his leadership post in January by a rebellion of "Young Turk" Republicans who installed Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan in his place.

Halleck had to move on, and so he became the first congressman to settle in the new building, even though it wasn't quite finished then.

Halleck sits in solitary splendor now surrounded by the souvenirs of bygone political wars.

A row of miniature elephants parades along the edge of his desk, and there is a golden telephone, the same one he used on the platform at the Republican convention of 1960 in Chicago. The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. gave it to him.

NCT SO BOUNCY

At 64, the ex-leader seems not quite so bouncy as in the days when he marshaled the Republican troops against the Democrats. But he insists a recent medical checkup showed him in good shape.

"The pressure is off now. I don't have to be on the floor for the opening prayer," he said in an interview.

The fact is his stocky form is seldom seen on the House floor since his downfall from the leadership.

HIS ANALYSIS

As to the party's crushing defeat last November, Halleck said, "I was here when things were a heck of a lot worse. We were down to 88 Republicans in the House back in 1937. We came back, and we will again." There are 140 Republicans now, and 294 Democrats.

He analyzed the election this way: "We should have clobbered the Democrats among the farm folks. But there was a sort of whispering campaign that if you elected Barry Goldwater the whole farm program would be out the window overnight. So we were on the defensive instead of giving the Democrats hell for not delivering on their farm promises."

"Civil rights—" He paused and said with a sigh, "I worked so hard for that. Both the Kennedys bragged on me so much people in my district didn't understand."

But with Goldwater heading the ticket, Halleck said "the colored people in my district wouldn't even vote for me." There was a note of disbelief in his voice.

Halleck said he has no quarrel with President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, but felt they were bound to be an issue in the next congressional elections.

"Many times down there with Democrat presidents I've backed them on foreign policy. It goes back to the Truman Doctrine in Turkey. I'd say, 'Mr. President, if that's the policy I'm for it.' But sometimes it seems we get called in when the sirens are blowing for a crash landing instead of when the whistle blows for the takeoff."

Halleck said he sometimes disagrees with the new leader, Ford, on policy matters, but he believes in party unity.

The "new image" Republicans who worked to oust Halleck said the party leadership must do more than oppose, that it must develop reasonable alternatives to Democratic programs.

A little sauerkraut leftover? You'll find it is surprisingly good added to tomato soup. When you add the kraut, add a bay leaf, too.

BITTER FIGHT EXPECTED ON UC REVISION

By JACK LYNCH
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — The stage is set for another possibly bitter round of legislative debate on the state's Unemployment Compensation program.

The Pennsylvania AFL-CIO and the United Mine Workers hastened Tuesday to support a bill introduced in the House by Democrats to restore most of the benefit cuts made in the program by the Scranton administration last year.

The two unions were principals in the earlier fight which lasted several months and ended in a stormy session on the House floor as Democrats charged violation of their constitutional rights.

FAMILIAR RING

Statements issued by the union leaders had a familiar ring, but there was no open discussion of the proposal before the assembly adjourned for its primary election recess. Both the chambers will return May 24.

That a fight is sure to occur, in the House at least, is indicated by previous statements by the Scranton administration that it would "fight to the last ditch" to preserve the 1964 amendments.

Democrats, with a 116-93 edge in the House, probably will win passage of their proposal in that chamber, but the Scranton administration undoubtedly will have support of the majority Republicans in the Senate and will head off passage there.

WOULD BOOST AMOUNTS

The Democratic bill would increase the maximum weekly benefit from $45 to $50 and provide an extra $2 for each dependent of an unemployed person up to a maximum of $8.

term Number.

The Scranton administration already has sponsored legislation for the $5 weekly increase, but the Senate has taken no action on it since the first of the year.

Other highlights:

Mass Transportation — The House Public Utilities Committee reported the Democratic mass transportation bill to the floor after increasing the appropriation for demonstration grant from $525,000 to $1 million and limiting state grants to 50 percent of the non-federal share of mass transit projects. The bill probably will be sent to the House Appropriations Committee for further study before receiving floor consideration.

DEFEAT REPEAL

Pool Halls — The House defeated 58-116 legislation that would have repealed laws prohibiting operation of pool halls on Sundays and banning youths under 18 years from frequenting them.

Gravy Train — The House Insurance Committee sent to the floor a bill that would require commissions on state-purchased insurance be paid into the state treasury. Presently, the money can go to the treasury, as Gov. Scranton has ordered, or to politically favored brokers.

Antipoverty — The Senate approved a corrective amendment giving an immediate effective date to a bill permitting the state to participate in the federal antipoverty and Appalachia programs.

DEBT LIMIT CHANGES

Constitution — Senate committee approval was given to proposed constitutional amendment that would do away with the state's $1 million debt limit and its dependence on the authority method of financing, raise local and school district debt limits, permit a $1,000 exemption under occupational privilege taxes and permit former judges to serve temporarily to reduce the court backlogs.

Student Loans — The governor signed into law a bill extending state-guaranteed college loans to freshman for the first time. It also increases the maximum loan from $5,000 to $7,500.

DIES OF WOUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Second Lt. Charles T. Hutchinson, an army paratrooper and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hutchinson of Kittanning, Pa., died Monday of gunshot wounds suffered in the Dominican Republic, the Pentagon announced Tuesday.

TV'S SLEEPY SEASON NEAR ON NETWORKS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Network television's sleepy season arrived Tuesday night with a traditional harbinger — the premier of what the publicists call a "summer series," and the trade calls a "package deal."

To viewers with long memories, NBC's "Cloak of Mystery" was an old package in a new wrapping. It was a half-hour program starring Simone Signoret and Lee Marvin which this viewer remembers vaguely from five seasons back.

TIN PAN ALLEY
Non-memorable dramatic entertainment is quickly forgotten and this little suspense tale was a frail bark when new. However, it is always interesting to watch Miss Signoret.

Within a couple of weeks, most evening television will consist of reruns from the past season and other seasons before that. These oft-told tales pop up like dandelions in warm weather because it is less expensive to make 30-odd episodes a year than 52 and because people are reputed to watch less television when the outdoors call.

NBC's Telephone Hour Tuesday night reworked a serviceable device — a salute to Tin Pan Alley. It was a fine excuse to play a lot of familiar old songs and to wind up with the inevitable "There's No Business Like Show Business" at the end of a tribute to Irving Berlin on his 77th birthday.

On hand were Hoagy Carmichael, who played "Stardust," Carol Lawrence; Gordon MacRae, and Leslie Uggams. With so much talent and such unbeatable songs, it was a fast-moving 60 minutes.

NBC's "Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson now has competition which might give the established late evening program some trouble. The new "Merv Griffin Show" launched Monday night on a syndicated basis in almost every detail is similar to Griffin's one-time variety hour on NBC's daytime schedule, which was a very fine program indeed.

Freshmen Eligible For College Loans

HARRISBURG (AP)—Freshmen students will be eligible for state-guaranteed college loans starting this fall. Gov. Scranton signed into law Tuesday a bill increasing the total maximum amount which any student can borrow from $5,000 to $7,500. The new law also increases the student loan fund from $425,000 to $1,255,000.

UDALL LEADS REPORTERS UP VIRGINIA PEAK

By FRANCES LEWINE

PEAKS OF OTTER, Va. (AP) — Interior Secretary Stewart Udall, who has climbed Mt. Fujiyama in Japan and Kilimanjaro in Africa, led a somewhat unwilling group of traveling reporters Wednesday to the summit of Sharp Top Mountain in these Blue Ridge Mountains.

He called it a hike — not a climb — because he said there were no rocks and ropes.

The nation's First Lady, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, who brought the news entourage here sight-seeing in the first place, got an extra two hours sleep, while Udall launched the hiking expedition. She preferred to drive along the Blue Ridge Parkway, stopping at scenic high spots along the way.

The President's wife came to this national park area on her two-day swing through Virginia, putting emphasis on the possibilities for "vacation bargain packages" in park areas.

JCN HIKERS
A few VIP members of Mrs. Johnson's party were eager enough and up early enough to take on the 1,500-foot hike to the Sharp Top pinnacle, 3,875 feet up.

There was Roger Stevens, President Johnson's adviser on the arts, who won the Barter Theater award in Abingdon, Va., Tuesday night for his outstanding contributions to the American theater. Mrs. Johnson made the award.

Asked if he'd done any climbing before, Stevens told reporters: "Well, not mountains."

Udall, as interior secretary, is in charge of national parks. Tuesday night Mrs. Johnson bartered her way into the famous Barter Theater using a tiny green seedling from a magnificent magnolia grandiflora that grows at the White House. "This is my ticket," she said.

House Approves Evacuation Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House gave final congressional approval Tuesday to a bill to cover expenses of servicemen's dependents evacuated to the United States from such hazardous areas as Viet Nam.

Under existing law, special allowances only apply when the dependents are evacuated to another overseas area. The legislation will run until June 30, 1966.

MILK PROBES LIST HEARINGS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A special legislative task force assigned to investigate the Pennsylvania milk industry scheduled its first public hearing Wednesday for June 10 in Pittsburgh.

Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, and Rep. W. Brady Hetrick, D-Mifflin, co-chairman of the 12-man investigating team said the hearings would last about a month.

Announcement of the hearing follows by two days final passage in the House of a $50,000 appropriation to finance the inquiry.

Hawbaker said the legislative investigation would not duplicate hearings and testimony taken by the state attorney general's office and the Milk Control Commission.

Da Nang is a town to forget, and a name to remember.

The seaport city of 160,000 people has 10 hotels, a USO, 35 bars, and is full of mosquitoes, prostitutes, jukeboxes and bar girls. It is frequently off-limits to American servicemen, and in any event closes tight at the 10 p.m. curfew.

It is also full of Viet Cong or Communist sympathizers. One was nabbed there recently, just after he had left a plastic bomb in the lobby of a hotel housing Americans. The bomb didn't go off, but 7,000 people turned out to watch Le Dau, 24, publicly executed on the Da Nang soccer field. They cheered.

BUDDHIST STABBED

About the same time, a Catholic stabbed a Buddhist in a card game. In the ensuing riot, Buddhists burned 14 Catholic homes. And on the outskirts of town, ageless peasants till the fields, as they have for centuries. Off to the west, the Annamite Mountains begin to rise from the coastal plain.

None of this would be of much concern to Americans, except that Da Nang is also a bustling military base, the same distance from Hanoi as it is from Saigon. And it stands just 80 miles south of the 17th Parallel, the invisible division line between North and South Vietnam.

600 DAILY FLIGHTS

A few months ago Da Nang was just another airstrip. Today it is an aerodrome handling 600 flights a day, or more. Once there was a handful of American "advisers" there. Today 716,000 American servicemen have pitched tent there. They mean to stay, they mean to hold Da Nang, and they mean to push the Viet Cong out. They mean to prevent another Bien Hoa, such as happened just outside Saigon last November. If they can help it, there will not be another Pleiku, such as happened in February. In those raids, the Viet Cong infiltrated, attacked and killed Americans, smashed millions of dollars worth of planes and other war material.

will relieve pressure on the Da Nang field, already jammed with war flights.

Every day the planes go out from Da Nang — South Vietnamese, U. S. Air Force, even Navy planes hopping from the carriers off-shore. They range over South Vietnam, into Laos, up into North Vietnam to the outskirts of Hanoi. They are bridge-busting, shooting up trains and trucks, barracks and ammunition dumps, radar and anti-aircraft posts. And they are hurting the enemy.

The Communists would like to take Da Nang. It would be a tremendous prestige-builder for the Viet Cong. But it isn't likely to happen. The Americans are committed to Da Nang now, and they obviously mean to hold it. As the biggest forward base, it is growing fast. Da Nang is a name to remember.

JANE RETURNS FROM TARZAN TO NEW ROLES

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It was a good thing for me to learn that I could carry my own weight," reflected Maureen O'Sullivan, here for the film version of the role she created but never expected to play.

Out at Warner Brothers Miss O'Sullivan and Paul Ford are doing a replay for their Broadway smash, "Never Too Late." For her it is a big step in the long road back from the shattering of her life with the death two years ago of her husband, director John Farrow.

The actress was left with six children to support — her eldest, Michael, had been killed in a plane crash in 1958. Farrow had earned good money during his career, and so had she. But not enough remained to bring up her children the way she wanted.

She had married the dashing Farrow in 1936, when she was starring for MGM — most indelibly as Jane to Johnny Weissmuller's Tarzan. When her contract was up during the war, Farrow persuaded her to end her career.

STUDIED NEW STYLES

But through the years she didn't neglect her profession. She studied new styles of acting on the screen and stored up ideas for future use.

Miss O'Sullivan's career remained in quiescence until 2½ years ago, when she encountered Pat O'Brien at a cocktail party. He urged her to consider doing a play at the Drury Lane Theater in Chicago. "I discussed it with John and he encouraged me to do it," she said. "I think he must have known he was going to die and he realized I would have to return to work to support the children."

The engagement was a splendid success and led to many play offers, including "Never Too Late." Early during the New York run, Farrow died.

UNEXPECTED ROLE

Miss O'Sullivan never expected to get the film version of "Never Too Late," since numerous other name actresses had been mentioned for it. But she had a hunch. She came to Hollywood for matters concerning her husband's estate and asked her agent to look into the movie. He expressed little hope.

Producer Norman Lear and director Bud Yorkin agreed to see her. When they saw that she was still radiantly beautiful, they tested her.

"Again I had a hunch," she said. "I delayed going east, thinking something might have gone wrong with the test. It had,

and they had me test again. That's when I got the part."
